KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

The Grand Parade Outshines All Previous Efforts in That Direction—The Divisions Outlined.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 9.—The welcome rain yesterday afternoon, while it rather spoiled the beauty of some of the decorations, cooled the air greatly, and made life more pleasant for the thousands of visitors in the city. Shortly after noon the showers commenced, and by 6 p. m. all was cool and pleasant, where before it had been hot and dry, and very uncomfortable. Preparations were going on all the time for the grand parade this morning. The chief marshals of the day were on duty preparing for the parade. All the positions had been assigned long ago, but it was impossible to tell just what commanderies would be on hand to take the positions given them. Orders were issued to be in place at 9 o'clock, and at that time they were all ready.

After an hour three guns were fired and the head of the procession began to move. Just at the same time, Grand Master Gobin and his escorts, St. Johns commandery of Philadelphia, started from the Brown Palace hotel, for the official reviewing stand at Sixteenth and Logan avenues. The line of march of the procession began on fourteenth street, crossed over Court Place to sixteenth street, then up sixteenth avenue past the reviewing stand to Race street, and then returned to the business section again. After several miles of marching the parade broke up at the Masonic Temple. The fourteen divisions formed on as many sides and took their places as the line moved along.

As the start was made at 10 o'clock with 12,000 men in line the rear was hardly in motion two hours later.

The column formed and marched in the following order:

Platoon of mounted police, Sir Frank B. Hill, grand marshall; Sir Julius B. Bissell, chief of staff; staff of fifty aides and ten surgeons.

First Division—Right Eminent Sir Byron L. Carr, grand commander of Colorado, commanding; Very Eminent Sir A. A. Burnesnd, chief of staff, fifty aides; the twenty-three colorado commanderies.

Second Division—Right Eminent Sir Robert H. Chamberlain, grand commander of Massachusetts, commanding; six aides from Colorado; Washington commandery, Washington, D. C.; Columbia commandery, of Washington, D. C.; Potomac commandery, of Georgetown; Demolay commandery, of Washington; St. John's commandery, of Providence; Boston commandery, of Boston; Worcester commandery, of Worcester; Demolay commandery, of Boston; Haverhill commandery, of Haverhill; Woonsocket commandery, of Woonsocket; Naraganset commandery, of Westerly, R. I; South Carolina commandery, of Charleston, S. C.

Third division—Right Eminent Sir George F. Loder, grand commander of New York, commanding; seventeen commanderies from New York; three commanderies from New Hampshire and three from Connecticut.

Fouth division—Right Eminent Sir Huntington Brown, grand commander of Ohio, commanding; twenty-five commanderies from Ohio; Kentucky commanderies from Louisville, Frankfort, Covington and Maysville.

Fifth division—Right Eminent Sir Jos. S. Wright, grand commander of Pennsylvania, commanding. Twenty-five Pennsylvania commanderies.

Sixth division—Right Eminent J. A. Manning, grand commander of Indiana, commanding. Thirty-five Indiana commanderies; four commanderies from Texas.

Seventh division—Right Eminent Sir S. C. Randall, past grand commander Michigan, commanding. Thirty Michigan commanderies; one commandery from Mississippi and one from Manitoba.

Eighth division—Right Eminent Sir S. O. Spring, grand commander of Illinois, commanding. Forty Illinois commanderies.

Ninth division—Right Eminent Sir Wm. F. Sumner, grand captain general of California, commanding. Four California commanderies; six from Tennessee and three from Georgia; seven from Wisconsin and nine from New Jersey.

Tenth division—Right Eminent Sir John R. Parsons, past grand commander of Missouri, commanding. Twenty Missouri commanderies; three from Alabama and three from New Mexico.

Eleventh Division—Right Eminent Sir W. F. Cleveland, grand commander of Iowa, commanding; fifteen Iowa commanderies and eight from Minnesota.

Twelfth Division—Right Eminent Sir E. C. Culp, grand commander of Kansas, commanding; twenty Kansas commanderies, one from Maryland and two from Utah.

Thirteenth Division—Right Eminent Sir Adrian V. S. Saunders, of Nebraska, commanding; ten Nebraska commanderies, five West Virginia commanderies, three from Arkansas and one from Oklahoma.

Fourteenth Division—Right Eminent Sir David M. Holmes, grand commander of North Dakota, commanding; two commanderies from North Carolina, two from Oregon, two from Washington, one from Montana, two from North Dakota, three from South Dakota, two from Wyoming and one from Arizona.

Judge Normile Commits Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 9.—A telephone despatch just received at the United Press office states that Hon. Jas. C. Normile, judge of the criminal court, committed suicide at his residence in the western portion of this city, this morning.

COMING STRIKES.

The Coal Miners Getting Ready for a Big One.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Aug. 9.—Berwind White Coal Mining company will have trouble with its miners. A recent dispatch from Houtzdale stated that the the 2,000 employes quit work for one day to attend a mass meeting at which a resolution setting forth their grievances as drawn up and submitted to the company. The next morning the men went to work considering it wise not to promulgate a strike but to give their employers time to consider their requests, which deals with a better regulation of the check weighman system, and an increase in mining of low grade coal. The men have agreed to stay at work until September 1. Last night a mass meeting was held near Phillipsburg by the Berwind White employes, at which resolutions were adopted calling on the members of the Miners' association throughout the Pimxsy district to adhere to their demands, and if necessary to go out to do so, and declaring they would go out with them. The Wage Earners' Journal, the official association organ, in its last issue practically advises a strike by calling upon the men to organize thoroughly and stand firm for their rights. To judge from present appearances a strike throughout the entire district on or about September 1st seems now inevitable. A strike at that time would be hard on the Berwind-White company, as it has just booked an order from the New York Central railroad for two and a half milllion tons of coal. Mr. Berwind says he does not believe there will be trouble, but if there shall be, it will be firmly met.

WANTS A RECEIVER.

The Iron Hall Case May Lead to Embarrassing Developments.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 9.—The Press today says that Judge Fell, of common pleas court No. 2, has indicated to Chas. H. Krumbhaar, state superintendent of banking, through an attorney, that he will this week entertain a petition for the appointment of a receiver for the Mutual Banking company, which is the local depository of the Iron Hall and with which Supreme Judge Somberby, of the order, is prominently identified, if the deficiency of the capital stock is not made good at once. This is the result of Superintendent Krumbhaar's recent investigation. A couple of months ago Superintendent Krumbhaar presented a petition to Judge Fell asking for a receiver of the company, owing to the impairment of $170,000 capital. At that time several stockholders agreed to make up the deficiency. This, the directors now claim, has been done. The last investigation by Mr. Krumbhaar, they contend, was principally to find out who are the directors who made good the impairment, and how much and what kind of funds each subscribed. This, the directors claim, they do not have to reveal, and have refused to make known to Mr. Krumbhaar.

HICKS WON'T SURRENDER.

But Continues the Strike Against the Advice of Walking Delegates.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Notwithstanding the collapse of the strike ordered by the walking delegates, Master Workman Hicks, of District Assembly No. 253, has decided to continue the strike against the Building Material Dealers association, in all the trades over which he has control. These unions are: The Stone Masons', the Material Handlers, the Brick Handlers and the Public Cartmen. Mr. Hicks has also control of the Boatmen's union. None of the members of these unions returned to work today with the other building trades. As these unions practically hold the keynote to the construction of a building, the work of those who have gone back will necessarily be for a time at least very slow.

SHAKEN UP.

Residents of Western Germany Treated to an Earthquake.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—An earthquake shock was felt in southwestern Germany, in the neighborhood of the Rhine. The direction of the earthquake was from the northwest to the southeast, and was felt most severely in Coblentz, Ems and Weisbaden. The shock lasted ten seconds. Buildings rocked and glasses and other articles in some instances fell and were broken. People were frightened, and many ran out of their houses into the streets. No fatalities are reported.

BIG BOND ISSUE.

The New York and New England Railroad Sells $25,000,000 Worth.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 9.—It is reported here that State Comptroller Staub has received a decision from his counsel, Judge Loomis, under which he will comply with the request of the New York and New England railroad for the registration of $2,000,000 of the new issue of fifty-year 5 per cent. gold bonds, amounting to $25,000,000.

Phylloxeria Attacks the Grapes.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—An outbreak of phylloxeria is reported in the Aviz-Cramant district, the vineyards of which are among the finest in Champaigne.

The Treasure Train Arrives.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The "Treasure train," with $20,000,000 in gold, arrived at the Grand Central depot at 11:30 a. m. today.

THE ARIONITES ABROAD.

They Are Insulted by the German Police at Frankfort—The American Flag Ordered Down.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—It appears from Frankfort papers which arrived in this city yesterday that the Arion members, who are touring Germany and Austria, had an exciting experience in that country. Upon their arrival there, July 25, they were heartily welcomed at the depot. As soon as the speaker who was to deliver an address of welcome in behalf of the local singing societies, began his speech, police officials interferred and harshly declared that no public meeting could be tolerated until permission had been obtained from the police authorities. Indignant, the Arionites went to their quarters, the Hotel Brueseler Hof, where they soon after floated the stars and stripes. When the police commissioner noticed the flag he ordered it down, remarking: "Here, we don't live in Asia, where flags may be displayed at any time." Thoroughly disgusted, the Arionites decided to leave Frankfort at once, without giving their announced benevolent concert, when Government Counsellor Steffens formally apologized for the action of the commissioner and withdrew the order regarding the flag. The Arionites thereupon remained and gave the concert, over 8,000 people attending. The Frankfurter Zeitung asks the American visitors not to hold the people responsible for the action of the police and remarks that in Germany people enjoy just as much freedom as the police permit.

HONDURIAN REVOLUTION.

The Government Succeeds in Routing the Insurgents and Capturing the Leaders.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9.—News was received late last night from the fruit steamship Sotterix that the Hondurian revolution was practically at an end and that Nuila, the insurgent leader, had fled from the country. The government has been making use of the Pizatti, a fruit vessel, for some time. A few days ago the Pizatti, manned with government troops, stole into the harbor of Ceiba, an insurgent stronghold. As she entered the harbor she was fired upon by a steam launch. The fire was returned and the little vessel captured with all on board. The Pizatti then landed the troops and after a short battle the insurgents were driven to the interior. In the battle General Peralta, the insurgent commander at Ceiba, was taken a prisoner and together with Signor Alornoda, a relative of the present minister of war, and Signor Carcamore, was shot on the morning following the battle. After this capture the Pizatti steamed to the Truxillo, where the government troops landed without difficulty, the insurgents having fled to the interior. On the day of the departure of the Sotteri from Ceiba for New Orleans, news was received on board of an engagement in which Nuila, the insurgent leader, was defeated at Olanchito, in the interior. It was thought Nuila had fled to Nicaraguay. The Sotteri stood in Ceiba bay during the entire battle.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

Three Persons Killed and Others More or Less Injured.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 9.—Another fierce electric storm, accompanied by wind and rain, visited this vicinity from 7 to 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Orchards were devastated in many places and the damage to fruit is heavy. Josephine Devaux, aged fourteen, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Her clothes were entirely stripped off. Her brother, aged seven, was sitting by her at the time. His clothing was torn and he was made deaf by the bolt. It deafened him so he can not hear a sound. A man at Casco and another at Red River were struck by lightning and instantly killed.

CHEERING NEWS.

The Small Pox Epidemic in Vancouver Is Over.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 9.—The small pox epidemic in the province is virtually over. The last official report gives the total of cases in the mainland as ten. The total number of cases reported during the epidemic was fifty-four. No new cases were reported during the past week.

COUNTERFEITERS.

A Gang of Them Unearthed in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 9.—The arrest of Lou Sturgis and J. M. Dunford for passing counterfeit money has led to the further arrest of Charles R. and Charles M. Chissolm, in whose house a lot of spurious money was found. A large amount of money was hot as if it had just been made.

Carriage Works Burned.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The works of the Buffalo Carriage company, on Broadway, were totally destroyed by fire at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The flames started in the third story but from what cause is not known. The works were built about four years ago and was owned by a stock company. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

A BAD MAN.

Edward DeCobain, the British Exile, Shows Up in America and Takes Part in Religious Meetings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Edward DeCobain preached at a revival meeting held in a shabby tent in a vacant lot in Brooklyn last evening. None of the little band of Methodists suspected the man's identity, nor thought for an instant that one of the foulest charges made against man was hanging over his head, a charge which caused him to flee the United Kingdom over a year ago. He was a member of parliament for Belfast when the crime was attributed to him and he fled to the continent, claiming he was a victim of a conspiracy. He was expelled from the British house of commons upon his failure to return and face his accusers and is now a fugitive from justice. Nothing definite was heard from him, but it was given out that he was in Spain or France. He is, however, living here and dropped in at the revival meeting in Brooklyn casually. The Herald correspondent introduced himself at the close of the meeting and accompanied Mr. DeCobain home. Mr. DeCobain asserted his innocence of the charges, and says he is preparing papers showing that he was the victim of a plot on the part of the Irish police, whom he had denounced. He said that when he left England he went to France and Spain and came to America last May, since which time he has been in this city.

GLADSTONE SPEAKS,

And the Applause Which Ensues is Unprecedented.

LONDON, Aug. 9—Wild cheers greeted Gladstone when he arose in parliament today to speak in the debate on the queen's address. When the applause subsided, Mr. Gladstone said that there was just cause of complaint against the government for having embarked the house on an utterly barren and anomalous debate. Hitherto the queen's speech had always admitted that the result of a general action was binding and conclusive. "Now," added Mr. Gladstone, "we find the decisions of the country challenged by the government, and this house has met to discuss—it does not know what." Mr. Gladstone said that the criticisms of the other side, composed of a liberal majority, struck at the root of legislation. Should the idea be generally adopted it would be a blow at parliament and the nation. The liberal majority doubtless had Irish votes for a basis, but under the circumstances this was rather its recommendation than a ground for assailing the right for such a majority to represent the people.

Pierce Mahony, who represented North Meath in the late parliament and was a defeated Parnellite candidate for the seat in parliament, has lodged a petition against the election of Michael Davitt, charging clerical intimidation, etc.

THE FALL RIVER AFFAIR.

Miss Bridget Sullivan Arrested as an Accomplice in the Murder.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 9.—This morning Bridget Sullivan, the servant girl in the Borden family, was summoned to the central police station. She walked down in company with an officer and talked quite freely on the way. She looked very much worried and was quite pale as compared with her appearance last Thursday morning when first seen by a reporter. She told the officer that it was very hard to be watched so closely and to have one's private affairs torn to pieces. She was willing, however, to have the police or anyone else examine her every action since the time she arose Thursday until she was asked to go to the police station with the officer. She did not care to talk very much about the details of the family relations. She said she wanted to leave two or three times, but she was urged to remain by Mrs. Borden, of whom she spoke, however, kindly. She was taken at once into the city marshal's presence and also into the presence of District Attorney Knowlton and Medical Examiner Dolan. These men, who, with Judge Blairdell and the two detectives that are now handling the case do not care to be quoted as having given any opinion on the merits of the present status of things, but they all agree that affairs are at a critical point, and action may be taken at once. Miss Sullivan was brought before the men to undergo a thorough examination as to the facts before and after the murders as far as she knew them. While the servant was in the court room locked up with the officials, Mr. Morse was walking along through Maine street and down to the banks, closely followed by an officer.

Ministerial Probabilities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Information has been received that the name of Mr. Shuix, formerly secretary of the Chinese legation at Washington, will be laid before the emperor of China as a successor to Minister Tsin, whose office expires October next.

Prose and Poetry.

Definitions of prose and poetry are always more or less interesting, but rarely satisfying. These are W. H. Mallock's attempts: "Prose is the language men use when expressing themselves without emotion, or with emotion which is slight or intermittent; poetry is the language which is exceptional and sustained. Poetry, in short, is in its essence this: It is the successful representation of life, as regarded with sustained emotion."

DESERTING THE MILLS.

Non-Union Men Leave the Carnegie Works in Flocks—The Strikers are Jubilant.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 9.—The locked out men at Homestead are exceedingly jubilant over the continued desertions of the new men from the Carnegie mill. Vice-Chairman Crawford, of the advisory committee, said this morning: "There is no longer any doubt that we have the strike almost won. From information received from the inside of the house the firm is greatly handicapped by the desertions and it is believed that fully nine-tenths of the men now at work inside the mill will come out within the next week. They are rapidly tiring of their prison-like life and restricted liberty.

Superintendent Potter denies the reported desertions from the works as claimed by the advisory committee, but the latter have names and addresses and know how many deserters, together with affidavits to substantiate their claims in this particular. The fifth regiment left for home this morning. The Tenth regiment will leave this evening or early tomorrow. Part of General Wylie's staff went home today.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 9.—Everything is quiet in the vicinity of the Carnegie Union mills today. The eighteen-inch and twenty-inch mills were run this morning by shifting the crews from other departments. The firm is offering $5.50 per ton with a contract running sixteen months for puddlers, but so far have received no applications.

It is stated that eight non-union men left the Thirty-third street works this morning. The strikers say they have information that the mill is fast going to rack on account of the incompetency of the present workmen. They say that in a week the company has suffered great loss of money on account of caving furnaces and badly burned iron.

A HUMAN WRETCH

Beats His Wife Until She Becomes Unconscious—The Humane Society Should Investigate.

If there is one human being lower than another that person is the man who cruelly beats his wife, assaults the woman whom he has sworn to love and cherish as long as life may last. Nothing more contemptible, low and inhuman can be placed to the discredit of man than to scold, abuse and assault the one being in whom, more than any other, the full affections of his heart should be centered; the one person who, come weal or woe is true to him in the face of all his inhuman actions.

THE SENTINEL knows of just such an inhuman brute. Saturday evening this species of man came to the city and remained all night, going to his home on Spy Run avenue Sunday morning, in a beastly state of intoxication. No sooner had he reached home than he began to assault his wife. He swore at her, struck her and kicked her until her screams awakened the neighbors, who, going to the scene later, found her unconscious from the effects of the brute's assaults. She was unconscious until yesterday morning, when several neighbors, who became interested in the woman, threatened to inform the humane society. Whether or not they did so we are unable to state, but if they didn't the officers can, through the medium of this article, begin an investigation, and it will not take them long to ferret out the beast in human form. Although the poor wife should seek to defend him evidence enough can surely be secured to place the wretch in the hands of the law and teach him a lesson.

DRUNKEN HUNTERS

Have a Little Fun with the Crew and Passengers.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Aug. 9.—The whole country was at fever heat all day yesterday, caused by a reported attempt at train robbery at Winslow, Ark., thirty miles north of here, but a private telegram last night said the whole thing was a farce occasioned by a lot of drunken hunters going to the Indian Territory. The United States marshal and about thirty deputies are now on the ground with fast horses, and if there is any truth in the report of train robbers being there, a hot fight may be expected.

THE WATER ADVOCATES

Meet in State Convention in Trenton, New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 9.—The New Jersey state convention of the prohibition party was held in Masonic hall, this city, today. About 500 delegates, all of them rural-looking, were in attendance. J. Sloan, of Essex, was elected temporary chairman. He made a ringing speech, in which he predicted the early destruction of the republican and democratic parties. At noon a short recess was taken for the formation of committees.

A Murderer Crushed.

MONTEVISTO, Colo., Aug. 8.—P. J. Sheridan, who was charged with the Phoenix Park murders, was crushed between a vehicle and a gate at his ranch, eight miles south of this place, and probably fatally hurt.

The Kaiser in Potsdam.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—The kaiser arrived at Potsdam today and was greeted by the Empress, who was waiting for him.

MIDSUMMER'S DULLNESS

Has Settled Around the Courts, but the Sentinel Reporter Manages to Fill Out His Column.

When local news is dull, as it happens to be about every other day during the hot month of August, the managing editor looks to the court reporter to help him out. Police court almost always turns up something which a newspaper writer can enlarge upon and make interesting to the reading public, who seem to have a weakness for perusing articles in which sin and crime abounds. This midsummer dullness in local news struck the city with fearful force today. There didn't seem to be a breath of fresh news. Nothing of interest had happened during the night, personal news was not floating on every bush, and when the fearful cry of "copy! copy!" from the printers in the composing room was heard our managing editor turned to the court reporter with: "Isn't there anything interesting in the courts? Can't you help us out today?" It was nearly 9 o'clock, and the court reporter scratched his partially bald head and said, "yes, wait just one hour." Donning his coat he rushed out of the office and hurriedly wended his way to the police station. Officer Limecooley was sitting on the pavement in front and Marshal Franke, Lieutenant Lapp and day clerk Joseph Kopp were in the office. The mayor had not yet arrived and police court, said Clerk Kopp, would not be called for a half hour. "Isn't there any news?" said the newspaper man to Marshal Franke. "Well, not much," was the reply. "We have a few cases, but they don't amount to much; better wait until the mayor arrives, but I can give you the cases which will be called up." Our reporter took them, but just as he was about to leave Mayor Zollinger and Prosecutor Colerick arrived and police court was soon in progress.

The first case called was that of John Allen. He had been on a drunk and Officer Romy landed him in the station house. He pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, and, being unable to pay his fine, was sent to jail.

John Keefer then stood up before the mayor. He, too, had succumbed to the weather and an overdose of whisky and was run in by Officer Bourgman. He had the money to pay his fine and thus escaped being sent to jail.

Fred Thompson was the name of a little German lad, twelve years old, whose case was next called. He was charged with stealing a watermelon and cried bitterly when he was arraigned before the mayor. Yesterday afternoon Thompson, whose parents reside in Bloomingdale, was playing along the Nickel Plate tracks with several companions. Fruit men were unloading watermelons. Some of the melons were broken and tossed to one side. Thompson picked up one of these and started off with it. Officer O'Ryan happened along and placed the lad under arrest. The officer started for the patrol box with the boy and Dan Hutchins, a farmer, who resides near Churubusco, interfered with the arrest and was placed under arrest and the two prisoners were taken to the station. Mayor Zollinger heard the story of the boy, but guilty perhaps as he was, had compassion for his years and the strength of his temptation—a nice, ripe, delicious watermelon—and let the boy go with a lecture. Hutchins was fined $5 and costs for interfering with an officer.

Two young fellows from New Haven, who were arrested last night for fast driving, were fined by the mayor. They came to town, got on a jag and then did some fast driving around the city. As they passed the corner of Berry and Calhoun streets their buggy struck Misses Mary Niedmeyer and Kate Didier, employes of the Hotel Aveline, who were passing over the street. The ladies were thrown to the ground, and one of them was quite severely injured, the horse striking her in the back and upon the head, making an ugly scalp wound. The ladies were taken into the hotel, where the injuries were dressed. Deputy Sheriff Wilkinson chanced to be present as the young bloods rounded the corner, and at once placed them under arrest. They paid their fines.

Justice Wilkinson heard the attachment proceedings this morning of Shono & Wellman against Fred Gorsline. Gorsline was a brakeman on the Grand Rapids road. Some time ago his wife and two children died, and not having the money to pay the funeral expenses I. N. Medsker, a friend, went his security on a note for $100, which he gave to the undertakers, Shono & Wellman, for the bill for burying his wife and children. To secure the payment of this note, or rather to protect Mr. Medsker, he gave a mortgage on some personal property, among which was two gold watches. Lately Gorsline took to drink and spending his money on bad women, so that when the note became due he could not meet it and skipped out for St. Louis with the two gold watches. The chattel mortgage was then foreclosed, but the property he left behind will not be sufficient to pay the bill of Schono & Wellman. His taking of the property covered by the chattel is equivalent to larceny, but it is probable he will not be prosecuted for this. Mr. Medsker, his security, will be the loser by his flight.

Justices Ryan and Tancey, with Drs. Poyncer and Ross, were engaged this morning in holding an inquest on the mental condition of Mrs. Sallie Sixby, of this city. The woman has all sorts of queer notions, is violent and destroys everything she lays her hands on. She was found to be insane and will be sent to the asylum at Richmond.

John F. Getts and Della Harden, Armand Romary and Emma Gretz, Sherman Smith and Luetta Hartzell have been licensed to wed.

James Artis, a colored man, who lives on East Wayne street, was before Justice Wilkinson this morning on the charge of beating his wife and was fined $1 and costs for this pastime. Jim, it seems from the testimony, lavished his money on some other woman and this morning he and his wife quarreled about the matter and it resulted in the row mentioned above. Justice Wilkinson thought $1 and costs would fit and so he imposed that fine on Artis. His wife swore out the affidavit against him.

Frank Taylor was capiased by Jennie Kirkendall. He settled, and the case was dismissed by Justice France.

The case of Celia Wade against Robbert Clark and Frank Garver, a suit on a note, demand $49.50, will be heard before Justice Hays on the 10th inst. Capt. H. W. Dickman is the attorney for the plaintiff.

During a fight in a Richmond saloon, Adam Kellar knocked out Michael Sheridan with a bowlder, causing dangerous injury, and, Saloonkeeper Schell lost a finger while trying to wrest a knife from Sheridan.

The coroner of Vanderburg county, in the case of William T. Hodson, shot to death by his son, Harry M. Hodson, has returned a finding with no expression as to the responsibility of the accused. The son stands committed for murder, without bail.

Jerome R. Wellington, near Winemac, eloped with Cyrena Valdemar, galloping off on horseback, accompanied by several friends as guards. Mr. Valdemar and his neighbors gave pursuit, finally compelling the fugitives to abandon their horses and seek safety in Blue Sea swamp. They were located, and upon demand for the surrender of the girl there was brisk firing with shot guns, in which Willis B. Carleton, who befriended the groom, was severely wounded in the face, and two of the attacking party were also winged. The fugitives then surrendered, but after proceeding a short distance homeward, other friends came to the rescue, recovered the girl from the father add started the lovers off for a preacher happy as clams.

The Vancleave white-capping outrage at Moberly has broken out afresh. For several weeks the Rev. B. T. Vancleve has busied himself securing evidence with which to successfully prosecute the scoundrels who whipped him. Meanwhile he is constantly in receipt of letters threatening muder, and these have had such a depressing effect upon Mrs. Vancleave that her removal to another part of the state is necessitated. Recently the White Caps turned their attention to the Rev. John M. Baxter, presiding elder of the Moberly circuit, and he is in receipt of letters making all sorts of charges against Vancleave, and demanding that he be removed not only from the circuit, but also forbidden to preach in the state, else every church in the circuit will be burned. Great excitement again prevails in that county. It is believed if the White Caps attempt to carry out the destruction of the churches, a bitter war will be engendered. For some time detectives have been working among the White Cappers, and the authorities are hopeful that all of them will be successfully prosecuted in the cases already instituted by Mr. Vancleave.

BADLY SCALDED.

Polly Myers, a Twelve-Year-Old Girl, Receives Painful Injuries.

Polly Meyers, a twelve-year-old girl, met with a painful accident at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sauser, No. 186 Calhoun street, at noon today. Polly, whose mother is dead, makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman, at 183 Calhoun street. Shortly after 12 o'clock Mr. Sauser's grandson, who is doing the household work during the illness of Mrs. Sauser, called Polly over to assist him in washing the dinner dishes. While thus engaged the girl upset a large basin of hot water upon her arms and legs, scalding the limbs badly. The screams of the unfortunate child drew to her the assistance of the occupants of the house, and she was tenderly cared for until medical aid could be obtained. Dr. Mortz was called and soon arrived. He found, after examination, that, though the burns were very painful, none of them were deep-seated, and the result will not be serious. The skin on one arm and the lower limbs peeled off when the clothing was removed. Mrs. Hoffman, who has taken Polly to raise, is quite ill, being prostrated by the heat, and she has not been informed of the accident to the girl. The fright, together with the pain, threw Polly into a chill, but she soon recovered.

Mr. John L. Boon, of Wayne township, made THE SENTINEL a pleasant call today. Mr. Boon is nearing eighty-four years old and has been a continuous subscriber to THE SENTINEL for forty-five years. Mr. Boon has made a hand in the harvest field just as regular as harvest came, but on account of failing health has missed the last two harvests and says he is not able to do work at all now, not even read THE SENTINEL but will stay on the list right along, as he counts on it as one of the family.

THE FALL RACES.

The Officers and Directors of the Driving Club Striving Hard to Make Them a Success.

In just four weeks Fort Wayne will hold its fall race meeting, which at present promises to be the best meeting of the kind ever given in the state of Indiana. Ever since the close of the July meeting President S. M. Foster, Secretary H. C. Rockhill, the Messrs. Centlivre and others have been using their best efforts to make this meeting a financial and racing success. After consultation with Mr. F. J. Hayden the above named gentlemen secured the right-of-way for a street car track to within half a mile of the main gate to the race track and there is hardly a doubt that within a few days permission will be granted by other property holders to extend the tracks up to the gate. Men are at work now on the extension, and transportation to and from the grounds this fall promises to be excellent.

The races will be of the highest class. The track, although new, has the reputation of being one of the fastest in the country, and horse owners want to come here and give their horses records. The purses and stakes are large, amounting from $300 to $2,000, and for each and every one of them there are numerous entries. Messrs. Centlivre and Rockhill have visited a number of race meetings this summer and have secured the promise of some of the best stables in the country to be present.

Secretary Rockhill this morning informed a SENTINEL reporter that Saulsbury's great California stable, including Direct, Flying Jib, Vic H., Homestake, Little Albert and other fast animals, is certain to be here and he had hopes that the great Hamlin stables of Buffalo, would also be here. An effort would be made to have Mr. Saulsbury give Direct a fast mile.

The 2:27 trot will be the greatest race of the meeting. Nightingale, who has been so successful this season, is one of the entries.

GRIM DEATH

Claimed for Its Victims Both Young and Old—Mrs. Henrietta Griebe Passes Away—Funerals.

Mrs. Henrietta Griebe, aged eighty years, died at 7:20 this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Trenkley, of No. 106 West Washington street. Death resulted from extreme age.

Mrs. Griebe was born in Berne, Switzerland, and came to this country in 1851. With her husband she settled in Delphi and there resided until his death, about sixteen years ago, when she came to this city and took up her residence with her daughter, Mrs. C. Trenkley, where she has resided ever since. She was the mother of seven children, who survive her, as follows: John Griebe, Merced, Cal.; Mrs. Louise Vollmer, city; Fred and Gottlieb Griebe, Brownton, Minn.; Charles Griebe, Canon Falls, Minn.; Mrs. C. Trenkley, this city, and Mrs. Nannetta Lansing, of Braiden, Ia.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p. m., at Mrs. Trinkley's residence, 106 West Washington street, Rev. Hartman, of the Salem Reformed church, officiating.

Mary Horstman, the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horstman, died last evening of inflammation of the brain at the home, 227½ John street. Funeral tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence.

Last night occurred the death of the two-day-old child of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Foster, who resides in the Foster block. The little one was buried this morning.

The funeral of the late Nicholas Alter occurred this morning at St. Mary's Catholic church, under the auspices of the Knights of St. John. There was a large attendance.

LOCAL LINES.

A. F. Beck, of Van Wert, Ohio, was in the city yesterday.

Charles O'Neil, of Montpelier, paid Fort Wayne a visit yesterday.

John A. W. Kintz, ex-sheriff of Huntington county, was in the city today.

J. F. Krehl, wife and daughter, of Bluffton, were in the city over night.

James Horrell and M. P. Emley, of Huntington, are in the city this afternoon.

Chris. Browand and Henry Wichman have resigned their membership in the First Regiment band.

"Doc" Depuy, of Wabash, not banker, but millionaire, nevertheless, was in the city today on business.

M. B. Stults, a prominent business man of Huntington, was in the city today between trains en route home from Loon Lake, where he had been enjoying a vacation.

R. C. Bell went to Indianapolis this afternoon over the Wabash. Tomorrow he will appear before the state board of tax commissioners in the interests of the Lake Shore and Nickel Plate railroads.

Mrs. Louis Meyer, of 76 Nort Harrison street, was surprised Saturday evening by a large number of friends, the occasion being her thirty-eighth birthday. The evening was whiled away in pleasant games, after which a dainty luncheon was set before the guests. The occasion was one long to be remembered, and those present wished Mrs. Meyer many happy returns of the day.

At the foot of Mt. Tacoma it is claimed there are trees which are 650 feet high.

TONIGHT.

CITY COUNCIL—Regular meeting.
SONS OF VETERANS—At G. A. R. Hall.
HAMILTON FIELDS—Sam J. Roberts' Theatrical company.
LODGES—Degree of Honor, Nos. 2 and 4.

A COOL wave is promised us. Let 'er come.

THE national convention of democratic clubs will meet at New York city on October 4.

THE gamblers should be made to go. They are a class of people who are an injury to any community.

THE Trade Council of Wabash has withdrawn the boycott instituted against a number of business firms with whom there were disagreements.

THE Saloon-keepers' Association of Washington has resolved "that not a front door, back door or window of any saloon in the city shall open on Sunday for love or money."

MANY Fort Wayne people are spending part of the summer at the Warsaw and Rome City resorts. Both these places offer fine attractions and especially is this the case during the sessions of the assemblies.

THE trustees of the townships and trustees of school boards of cities and towns have made their annual report to the county commissioners. These reports are due on the first day of August. All trustees save those of Scipio, Jackson, Maumee and Perry have reported, and the board has given them until next Thursday in which to comply.

THE rejected report on the Homestead labor troubles prepared by Representative Oates, now that congress has adjourned, has been made public. Mr. Oates thinks both sides were blamable, and condemns the McKinley law for its failure to benefit American workmen, saying the promises made to the workmen have been disappointing.

THE democrats of Lagrange county nominated the following ticket last Saturday: Dr. John Dancer, representative; John Price, clerk; Nelson E. Miller, treasurer; W. H. Weaver, sheriff; H. M. Kromer, recorder; Victor Camp, surveyor; Dr. Shrock, coroner; R. M. Wigton, county assessor; Valentine Shrock and Frank Atwood, commissioners.

THE investigation of drunkenness in congress has established two points: First, that there has been an improvement in sobriety in the house of representatives. There are 332 members, from all parts of the country and various classes in life. The testimony before the committee shows there is comparatively little drunkenness among these members. The other point is, the eager desire to disprove Mr. Watson's charge, showing a recognition of a public opinion that would not condone this offense. This could not have been said of a generation or two ago, when this vice was much more general among men of position and much more easily pardoned than now.

THE latest thing we have seen advocated in horse racing circles is a rubber track. One writer has this to say about it in the Breeder and Turfman: "The rubber track, we believe, should be constructed in the form of a perfect circle, just one-half mile in length immediately in front of the grand stand, thus affording the best possible view, while on this springy, yet non-slippery, substance the horse is able to use his powers for all they are worth, making faster time by five or eight seconds than any form of dirt track. Who would not rather witness a race over a half mile track, where the horses must go round twice for a heat, so you can see just what they are doing, providing as fast or faster time is made, than over a mile track? Then again, what a boom for poor, overworked, sore footed horses, the result of rapid action over flinty tracks in long, drawn out, three-in-five, live-or-die races, a strain that nature never intended the feet of a horse to endure, and even though the feet are not predisposed to disease by inheritance, as many of them already are, they certainly will in future generations if we continue to subject them to this unbearable strain.

BEGINNING tonight the falling stars, so called, will give their regular August entertainment. They are not falling stars, however, for the nearest of the stars is 20,000,000,000,000 miles away. They are supposed to be fragments of course, but why they should fall every year at this time no one knew for years and years. They also play an engagement in November, but it doesn't, except once in thirty-three years, equal the August display. Meteors are supposed to be the remains of comets. At any rate, a regular stream of these minute bodies is, in every case where found, strung out in or very close to the orbit of a known comet. The August meteors' path coincides with that of the second comet of 1862. These meteors are found all along the trail of this comet, and form a regular continuous stream around the sun. This stream is elliptical, like the orbit of the comet, and the sun is in one focus of the ellipse. The orbit of the earth intersects some of the meteors about the point which the earth reaches every year around August 9. As the earth dashes along its course it plunges into this meteor stream at that date. Many meteors are then turned from their course by the earth's attraction, and in flying toward us they are ignited by the resistance offered by the earth's atmosphere, and thus becomes visible to us. The long train which they leave after them is composed of glowing ashes into which they are reduced.

Occasionally a meteor strikes the earth, and there is a case on record of a man being killed by one, but the majority of them are burned up before they reach us and only the ashes fall, but these ashes are redhot and leave a luminous train. But for the fact that our atmosphere, which extends upward 100 to 125 miles, furnishes us protection and checks the falling meteors until they are burned to powder, the loss of life and property every August and November would be tremendous, for the meteors average about a pound each in weight.

STATE NEWS.

William Chambers, of Aurora, disappointed in finding work in an Anderson factory, attempted suicide by swallowing laudanum and strychnine.

Eight hundred people attended the double funeral of John H. Fulmer and Oscar M. Colglazier, near Salem. The young men were killed by a Monon train.

Mrs. Thomas Mintaugh, wife of a wealthy farmer near Colfax, disappeared from home one night last week. She has been deranged for several years.

Miss Mary Simms, of New Albany, some years ago answered a matrimonial advertisement and this led to a correspondence with William J. Reeves, a ranchman, of Texas. The correspondence was kept up, and a few weeks ago the ranchman proposed marriage. The parties met on Sunday for the first time, and favorable impressions being mutual, a marriage followed, Rev. H. J. Talbott officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves will live in Texas.

The late Thomas Arthur Stuart, of Lafayette, was the third lawyer connected with the celebrated Pettit wife-poisoning case who has died. Colonel Wilson and Judge Davidson were the others. The death of Stuart is a severe blow to Pettit's hopes, as he was an indefatigable worker and firmly believed in the preacher's innocence. He was in possession of many facts and figures not of record which would have been of great value in the appeal now pending.

The Anderson tin plate works, the first establishment of its kind in this state, has been sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy mechanics' liens. The claims aggregate $7,825, and the plant was assessed for taxation purposes at $6,000. It was a small concern, employing but four men, three boys and eight girls. The men were skilled workmen, imported from Wales, and one of them reports that in Wales he received $2 50 per day, working six days in the week, and that it is his purpose to return home, as the cost of living more than compensates for the difference in wages.

Wm. N. Whitely, the great implement manufacturer of Springfield, Ohio, has closed a contract looking to the removal of his immense plant to Muncie. The chief desideratum is cheap fuel, but Mr. Whitely is given a fifty acre tract of land, and the Whitely Land company, organized with $250,000 capital stock, has purchased 1,200 acres of land adjoining the reaper site, on which the new town of Whitely will be located. The new factory will have a floor space of 152,000 square feet, and when in full operation is expected to give employment to 2,000 workmen in the manufacture of reapers, mowers and other kinds of farm implements. Muncie is delighted with the acquisition.

Hon. J. B. Harris, mayor of Champaign, Ill., who spent Sunday in this city with A. Lorenzo, resumed his journey to Philadelphia yesterday. Mr. Harris is a republican and lives in Joe Cannon's district, the Fifteenth. He says that President Harrison is very unpopular in his district, and will run 1,500 votes behind his ticket. Another republican congressional convention will be held at Danville, Ill., in a short time, and a straightout republican will be nominated to oppose Cannon, who, although he manipulates the machinery, is as unpopular as Harrison.

The feeble minded institute band went to Huntington this afternoon, where they will furnish the music at a festival given by the Y. P. S. C. E. tonight. They will give a free concert on the streets of Huntington this afternoon. Superintendent Blake accompanied the band and will entertain the denizens of that city with singing. The reputation of the feeble minded band is growing and is equal to that of many bands in cities surrounding us.

A LOOK AT CORBETT

AS HE APPEARS IN HIS TRAINING QUARTERS.

How He Seeks to Steal a March on the World's Champion—His Friends Confident of Victory—Training Implements.

WHILE THE HERcules of the prize ring is endeavoring to remove from human gaze the layers of fat that cushion his bones at Shinnecock Bay, the Adonis of the squared circle is also preparing himself for the great battle of fists which will occur on Sept. 7. The prime object of Sullivan and his trainer is to wear off pounds of surplus flesh, while Corbett is intent only in keeping himself in a condition of health and strength. The methods of the two fighters are almost identical, but the objects sought are different. There is also a marked similarity in the training quarters of the men. The champion plods upon the sandy roadways of Good Ground, and dozes beneath the trees that shade the sleepy old inn which he makes his home. Before him spread the placid waters of Shinnecock bay. In the rear are the calm depths of Great Peconic bay, and on the left the Shinnecock canal ripples between high banks of yellow sand. The salt breezes from the ocean continually rustle the leaves of the mulberry trees and keep down the temperature of the massive pugilist.

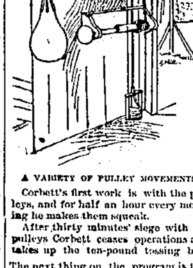

TOSSING THE TEN-POUND BALL.

Corbett's surroundings are somewhat more aristocratic. He occupies an ornamental cottage on the seashore at Asbury Park. In the rear of the cottage is Deal lake, on which the young giant does his rowing, and also within a stone's throw to the right is the sounding sea. As the pugilist swings idly in his hammock on the pleasant veranda, the muffled roar of the sea falls upon his drowsy ears like the applause of thousands, and he half fancies that he is stepping into the ring to meet the strong boy. This illusion is usually dissipated by the voice of his trainer requesting him to join in a little spin down the road for the purpose of getting up an appetite. Then he awakes to a realization of the fact that time has not been called for the chief event of his pugilistic career, and patiently resumes the routine of his preparatory work.

The branch of his training which gives him the most vigorous exercise is, however, the handball court, which adjoins the barn on the ocean side. It is very well constructed, and not only affords splendid exercise, but also unlimited sport. Corbett naturally does not indulge every day in all the features noted, but varies them. He does all his indoor work in the morning and walks during the afternoon, which is directly opposite to the system employed by Sullivan, who walks in the morning and takes his gymnastic exercise in the afternoon. The Californian says that if he walked in the morning he would feel too tired to do much work in the afternoon. Corbett has now been training five weeks, the work being directed toward strengthening the arms, keeping the wind in good condition and maintaining a good state of health. He will not begin his hard work until the first of August, when he will put in four weeks of good, solid effort.

At present Corbett weighs 185 pounds stripped, and he expects to enter the ring at between 185 and 190 pounds, while Sullivan hopes to weigh in the neighborhood of 205 pounds.

A VARIETY OF PULLEY MOVEMENTS.

Corbett's first work is with the pulleys, and for half an hour every morning he makes them squeak.

After thirty minutes' siege with the pulleys Corbett ceases operations and takes up the ten-pound tossing ball. The next thing on the program is the wrist machine.

The last feature of the morning is handball, and this gives the young man a chance to show how quickly he can move his 185 pounds. He springs about the court with wonderful activity, and easily defeats two opponents every day.

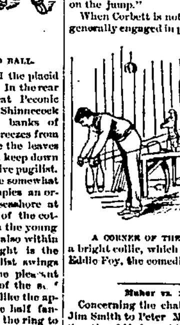

When he has been thoroughly rubbed Corbett takes a slight rest, and after lunch starts out with Trainer Daly for his regular afternoon stroll. The walk is usually to Long Branch and back. The men start out easily, and gradually quicken their gait until within a mile or two from home, when they break into a brisk run and end up with a spurt. At night Corbett goes to Asbury Park and takes a stroll on the boardwalk or visits friends. He seldom goes to bed until 10 or 10:30 o'clock, arguing that if he got into the habit of retiring earlier, and the fight on Sept. 7 did not begin until late, he might have a tendency to drowsiness at a time when he desired to be wide awake. Corbett does not believe in surf bathing, as he thinks its effect is weakening. He does all his bathing in a tub.

Like many other athletes in training, there is only one thing that will cloud Corbett's sunny temper, and that is, delay in serving a meal for which he is waiting with a wolfish appetite. On such occasions Corbett walks rapidly around the veranda, with his forehead wrinkled, and urges Delaney to "jolly that dinner along."

The question naturally confronts those who have seen Sullivan and Corbett at work. What will the result be? And this brings to light the interesting and very pronounced difference of opinion between Sullivan and his backers, and Corbett and his supporters. That both are confident of victory there is no question. Sullivan's backers seem to think that they will take the purse with ridiculous ease. They base their belief on the fact that Sullivan is now in good health and strength, and seems certain to train into good condition. They hold that when the champion is in form no man can withstand his rushes. Sullivan has said that he will whip Corbett in twenty minutes, and that it is unnecessary for him to train very hard for the meeting.

Billy Delaney says that anybody who tried to whip Corbett in a hurry would run against a surprise party. "Corbett is three inches taller than Sullivan, and has a longer reach. He is strong as a bull and quick as a cat. So far as Corbett's habits are concerned, they could not be better. I saw Corbett and Sullivan spar in San Francisco, and, while there was no heavy slugging, Corbett showowed his ability to keep his man on the jump."

When Corbett is not exercising he is generally engaged in playing with Ned,

JAMES DALEY.

Maher vs. Smith.

Concerning the challenge issued by Jim Smith to Peter Maher, the London Sporting Life has this to say: "Our Dublin correspondent wired us last evening to the effect that after reading Smith's challenge to Peter Maher he waited on Tony Sage. That gentleman informed me that, although he could ill afford the time just now for match making, he would have been pleased to have accepted Jim's challenge on behalf of Maher had not other arrangements been made for the Irish champion. At present the latter is fulfilling a very lucrative engagement with Ginnett's traveling circus, at the expiration of which he is due in America. In order, however, to give Smith every chance, Mr. Sage will guarantee that before the Irishman again leaves his native shore the latter will bet the Englishman £100 and the receipts of the gate that he will beat him in a four-round contests with 4-ounce gloves, the men to box in Belfast in four weeks from the date of signing articles."

It begins to look as if Lamplighter and Tammany might be playing the game which Salvator and Tenny played at Monmouth two years ago, except that Tammany has got the better of it so far.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Terry is down for release at Pittsburg.

Pitcher Esper has been signed by Pittsburg.

Hardy Richardson will be released by New York.

Gaffney has not umpired a game in Baltimore this season.

Jerry Denny has a batting average of .300 in the California league.

Mat Kilroy is now pitching for amateur clubs around Philadelphia.

Jerry Harrington is becoming shoulderbound, and is not the great catcher that he once was.

Jimmy Galvin has brought suit for $10,000 damages for the death of his son, who fell in a salt pool June 17.

Jimmy Manning will not go to St. Louis, having signed to manage the Birmingham club of the Southern league.

The entire Columbus club have found jobs. Jantzen and Campau went to New Orleans, Stephens to Baltimore, McClelland to Marquette, and Abbey and Walsh to Ishpeming.

NOTES FOR NATURALISTS.

India rubber trees grow wild all over Lee county, Florida. At Fort Myers they are the chief shade and ornamental trees.

Oscar Wilde is developing a new flower, a green-veined tulip, which he pronounces "a triumph of classic horticulture."

Horticulturists tell us that the orange was originally a pear-shaped fruit about the size of the common wild cherry. Its evolution is due to 1,200 years of cultivation.

In Ashantee and around the woods near Kabba grows a tree resembling in appearance the English oak, which furnishes excellent butter. This vegetable butter keeps in perfect condition all the year round in spite of the heat, and in its natural condition.

A little insect that fastens itself on the wire fences in the fall around Carson City, Nev., and exudes a sticky, glutinous substance, is often responsible for broken fences. The insect remains glued to the wire all winter, and in the spring the wire parts at that point.

The exceptional honor of possessing a head of green hair falls to Daniel McCorry, bronze colorer, at a wall paper factory, Philadelphia. He was once blessed with blonde hair, but in following his trade he was constantly amid acids and bronzes, and finally he observed his hair changing to a rich emerald green.

Maj. Allatt of the British army thinks that ducks would be preferable to pigeons for carrying naval dispatches over the sea, because they would drop down and sit on the water when tired, and resume their flight after resting. Moreover ducks can fly by night, while pigeons can not. Maj. Allatt also suggests that sea gulls might be trained for message bearing.

A land-locked salmon, weighing 6½ pounds, taken from Green lake, Me., recently was found to have attached to the back fin one of the aluminum tags with which fifty of the salmon were marked during the spawning season of 1890. Although exposed to the water for so long, the tag and silver wire with which it was fastened to the fin were but slightly tarnished, and the number was plainly discernible. A reference to the list of tagged salmon showed that the salmon had grown an inch in length and about a pound in weight since being tagged.

Jane Austen's works are now old enough to be new. An edition de luxe of her novels reminds us that Macaulay spoke of her as "a woman of whom England is justly proud," while Walter Scott said, "What a pity such a gifted creature died so early!"

Miss Emma Eames, the American songstress, tells a London interviewer that hard as she works she never allows herself to get tired. "The moment I find that my intelligence is clouded," she says, "I sit down and think of other things or read books and go to bed early. Nothing can be done without intense power of concentration."

John A. Brashear of Allegheny City, Pa., the astronomer and manufacturer of telescopes, was once a laborer in one of the Pittsburg iron mills. His talent came to the attention of Henry Phipps, the millionaire, who persuaded him to give up puddling and devote himself to astronomy. He was for years a lecturer in this science in the Western Pennsylvania university.

Athletes of the Present Day.

J. E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, president of the Pastime Athletic Club, and athletic editor of the Sporting Times, writes:

"For years I have been actively connected with athletic sports. I always found it to my advantage to use ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS while in training, as they quickly remove soreness and stiffness; and when attacked with any kind of pains, the result of slight colds, I always used ALLCOCK'S with beneficial results. I have noticed that most athletes of the present day use nothing else but ALLCOCK'S PLASTER."

Telling the Truth.

It's common saying that newspapers lie, but when an editor writes a thing and puts his name to it you may be sure he is telling the truth. Read this: "We have never before said one word in favor of any patent medicine advertisement in our columns, but having given Simmons Liver Regulator a fair trial, we do not hesitate to say that for dyspepsia and general debility it cannot be excelled."—Fred M. Childs, editor "News," Kenton, Ohio.

Hallo! Hallo!!

Give me Hein & Israel, the Broadway Paper Men. I am sick and tired looking at my dirty walls, when they are almost giving wall paper away. Give them to me quick. They are practical paper hangers and painters and I know they will do me a good job. They will go anywhere in Fort Wayne and Allen county and hang paper. Don't forget the place.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTYN, D. D., New York City. Late Pastor Bloomingdale Reformed Church.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., "The Winthrop," 125th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

Fruit House Prices for 1892.

The season of 1892 opens auspicious for the purchaser. There are few lines of goods but what there has been a decline in, and especially in sugars, but also in Coffees, Raisins and California Dried and Canned Fruits. When Sugars touched 5c for Granulated every one felt as this would be bottom, for that was a plump reduction of 3c per pound, but now Granulated is 4½, another half-cent decline. At no time in World's History has Sugars been so low as now. We even sell a good

COFFEE! COFFEE! COFFEE!

Coffee—The reduction of 3c per pound which we made last circular still holds good, although in Rio and New York there has been a stiffening up of prices of about 1 and 2c per pound, but we having a good large stock purchased when the market was down, we are enabled to continue our reduction of 3c per pound on all grades of Rio, Java and Mocha.

TEAS! TEAS! TEAS!

The Tea Market has undergone no change, indeed they are so cheap now, that there is little likelyhood of their going lower. The trade in them is growing rapidly. We now sell twenty chests, where we formerly sold one. The secret of our great Tea trade lies in the fact that we purchase direct of the importer, and retail direct to our customers, thereby saving them the profit of the Jobber and wholesale merchant which is at least 10 to 25c per pound.

If Barytes and other adulterants of White Lead are just as good as

why is it that all the bogus and adulterated white-leads are always branded "Pure," or "Strictly Pure White Lead?"

No one ever puts a misleading brand on an article of merchandise, unless he wants to "work off" an inferior for a better.

This Barytes or Baryta, is a heavy white powder, worthless as paint; costing only about one cent per pound and is used to adulterate and cheapen the mixture. No one ever adulterates white lead with an article costing more than Lead.

If you purchase any of the following brands you are sure of having strictly pure white lead—

ANCHOR (Cincinnati)
ARMSTRONG & McKELVY (Pittsburgh)
BEYMER-BAUMAN (Pittsburgh)
COLLIER (St. Louis)
CORNELL (Buffalo)
DAVIS-CHAMBERS (Pittsburgh)
ECKSTEIN (Cincinnati)
FAHNESTOCK (Pittsburgh)
MORLEY (Cleveland)
RED SEAL (St. Louis)
SHIPMAN (Chicago)
SOUTHERN (St. Louis and Chicago)

These brands of strictly pure White Lead and the National Lead Co.'s Tinting Colors are for sale by the best dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THOUSANDS visit Lakeside every pleasant Sunday to see the wonderful development of that pretty suburb. So rapidly are the new and handsome cottages going up that even a single week makes a great difference in the appearance of things. Prices of lots are commencing to stiffen and a delay of a month or two is liable to cost you $50 or $100. Better select your lot at once. The Land company will furnish you with money to build and let you pay it back in monthly installments.

MONEY TO LOAN—The Tri-State Building and Loan Association will loan you money to pay a mortgage or build you a home at a less rate than anyone else. Do not pay rent or a high rate of interest when you can get the the money of the Tri-State Building and Loan Association at a low rate and on such easy terms. One thousand dollars at $12, $14 or $17 per month, to suit borrower. Call at the office of the Association, rooms 10 and 11 Pixley and Long block, and secure full particulars. 27-tf

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Accidents, Incidents, and Personal Mention of the People About the Railway Centers.

John Nolan, the veteran Pittsburg machinist, is quite ill.

Albert Ewald, a Pittsburg boilermaker, is sick and off duty.

Gus Dornte, of the Pittsburg planing mills, has recovered from a week's illness.

The Illinois Central has put on a fast vestibule train between Chicago and Sioux City.

F. W. Gardner, painter, is camping out on the banks of the St. Joe river for a few days.

G. P. Lehr and B. Meyers, roundhouse employes, have reported for duty after a sickness.

Foreman T. J. Robabaugh, of the Pittsburg paint shops, is attending the races at Grand Rapids today.

William Abrams has resigned his position in the Pittsburg car shop and will remove to Crestline, Ohio.

Louis Rehling is at his forge in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop again after a very pleasant visit in the country.

James Burnes, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, fell yesterday and injured his side so badly that he had to quit work.

J. D. White, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, has been camping out up the St. Joe river for the past two weeks.

Fireman Charles Coulson, of the Nickel Plate passenger service, reported for duty yesterday after a few days recreation.

Thomas Golden, clerk in Master Car Builder Graham's office, is off duty today, attending the funeral of the late Mr. Alter.

No. 273, a class X engine, built in the Fort Wayne shops, went east this morning and will be turned over to the eastern division.

E. Journard, who resigned his position in the Anthony Wayne works a few weeks ago, has returned to that establishment.

Andy Huber resumed his duties in the Pittsburg planing mills this morning. For a week he was nursing a mashed finger.

The Pennsylvania shops at Columbus will soon turn out three more class R engines. This will make fifteen heavy freight engines built there this year.

Charles Rodenbeck and H. J. Daseler, who were among the suspended men from the Pittsburg boiler shops, have gone to Huntington to look for work.

Mrs. Gus Brandenburg, wife of the Wabash car repairer, is very ill. Mr. Brandenburg, on account of his wife's illness, has been unable to work for over a week.

Fireman Harry Meyers, who was laying off to entertain a cousin from Galion, Ohio, resumed his run on the Nickel Plate this morning. The cousin has returned home.

William Royhans, clerk for Peter J. Scheid in the Pittsburg roundhouse, is confined to his bed with sickness. Theodore Doebler is looking after affairs in the office.

John Davidson, a Nickel Plate engineer, who is working on a gravel train on the Chicago division, spent Sunday and a part of Monday with his family at Bellvue, Ohio.

The passenger rate war goes merrily on. It is now believed that when the time comes the railroads will not be able to get one fare rate for the round trip to the world's fair.

Bud Fisher is the guest of relatives and friends in this city. He is the son of Abel Fisher, formerly of this city, but now master car builder of the Wellsville, Ohio, railway shops.

The Erie has taken up the gauntlet thrown down by the Nickle Plate, and has made an eight dollar rate to Niagara, Chautauqua and other points, and will in addition give stop-over, privileges.

John F. Cline, who for several years has been secretary and treasurer of the Toledo and Ohio Central road, has resigned to engage in business. Judge Stevenson Burke, president of the road, has not yet selected his successor.

The Fort Wayne shops are not the only railway shops now doing a light business. The Clover Leaf shops at Frankfort are doing very little outside of repairing tools and machinery and getting ready for business when it does open up.

Jacob Hauck, a carpenter in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson, made a run from Findlay, Ohio, to this city, a distance of 112 miles, on his bicycle last week, in eight hours. This, we understand, beats any long distance runs yet made by Fort Wayne wheelmen.

Ed. Challenger, clerk in the Pittsburg boiler shops, and his family will go to Warsaw today for a week's outing. J. C. Hews and Dan Hurley, foreman and assistant foreman respectively, will go to that pleasant resort Saturday afternoon and be Ed's guests over Sunday.

The last class X engine, No. 274, was turned out of the Pittsburg shops yesterday. The men are now doing repair work only, but there is plenty of it to keep them at work all the time.

J. W. Harber, was a caller at the Nickel Plate round house yesterday and gave notice that he would resume his old run later in the week. Mr. Harber, who is a fireman, has been sick for eight months.

The Pennsylvania has reduced passenger rates to the basis of one cent a mile from eastern points to Chicago and St. Louis and the Big Four has made a reduction in rates to Lake Chautauqua, Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland and other points.

Isaac B. Fisher, who for twenty-one years ran the fast train on the Erie road, died in an insane asylum last week. He was always an active member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, being one of Grand Chief Arthur's right-hand men

Sam Murphy, the painter boss in the east shops, has rented a cozy brick cottage on New Haven avenue, near the shops, and will soon be "at home" to his friends there. Mr. Murphy and family are estimable people and are sure to receive a welcome from the residents of the east end.

Nickel Plate sick list: Engineers C. E. Merriett, George Stevens, C. A. Braithwait, Henry Honerman, George Cooper, John Stackhouse, Ed. Crosby, George Dougherty, and George Maughan; Firemen J. Rennie, Joseph Ebert, George Rohlman, Frank O'Brien, Frank Smith, I. P. Hill and J. H. Rannard.

The Toledo Railway Clerks' association, organized but a few months ago, has now 240 members. Through the efforts of the association the hours of labor for the clerks have been reduced without any ill feeling on the part of the heads of the respective departments where the clerks are employed.

Pittsburg roundhouse report: Engineer B. F. Campbell, off on vacation; Firemen H. C. Cramer and N. Hayes, sick. The following, recently on the off-duty list, have reported: Engineers W. G. Lyons, F. Penoyer, J. C. Piersen, P. H. Ryan, E. Janey and J. H. Stewart; Firemen T. Teagarten and A. H. Hively.

This hot weather has nearly paralyzed business in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop. The sick list this morning contains the following names: Oscar Judy, A. Ranner, Charles Rice, James Quinn, Henry Dreier, James O'Hern, Anthony Haverly, Al Throckmorton, Joseph Carry and George Kelley.

Section men every where are demanding more pay for their services. There is no class of workmen so poorly paid as the section men, their daily earnings being on an average $1.10. The latest strike for higher wages is on the Chicago and Indiana coal road, where the men demand $1.25 per day. If sober, industrious laborers they should have what they demand.

The freight department of the Pennsylvania road has issued its new tarriff from Toledo, Cincinnati, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis and other western points to Boston, which will go into effect August 15. The new rate is practically a reduction on grain of 3 cents per 100 pounds by all lines. There is also some reduction in commodity rates, which will favorably affect western shippers. Rates on live stock and export freights remain as heretofore.

There is a great deal of complaint of dishonest telegraph operators at railway stations everywhere; a man jumps from a train, leaves a message, pays for it hastily, the operator pockets the money and the message goes into the waste basket. This dishonorable method of doing business is more practiced on strangers than one would suppose, it well could be without detection and punishment. The practice is indulged in when parties telegraph ahead for berths in sleeping coaches, and the sleeping car companies, it is stated, are quietly looking into the matter.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four and the Chesapeake and Ohio, has become a warm advocate, it is stated, of placing ticket collectors on all passenger trains. He says, laying aside all charges of dishonesty on the part of conductors, it is profitable to have both conductors and ticket collectors for all trains. This plan enables the conductor to keep his train on time, is a preventative against accidents and, taken as a whole, is a benefit to the company. He thinks the sooner the traveling public disabuses itself of the idea that when ticket collectors are put on trains it is indicative that the conductors are dishonest the pleasanter would be the conditions of all concerned.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at Dreier Bros. Drug Store, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

ROSE CLARK AMBLER.

VICTIM IN THE GREAT STRATFORD MYSTERY.

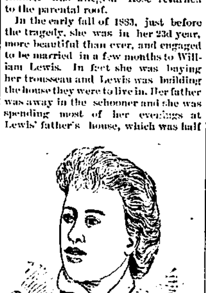

HER SENSATIONAL MURDER REVIEWED AGAIN.

The Many Circumstances That Have Contributed to Make the Case One of the Most Celebrated in Criminal Annals—Her Love Affairs.

THE MOST INTERESTING of Connecticut's murder mysteries is that of Rose Clark Ambler, which occurred nearly ten years ago at Stratford. Rose was the daughter of a skipper and the belle of the city. At 19 she married Norman Ambler, who, with his cousin, William Lewis, kept a general store on the main street. Society was shocked a year after their marriage, when they separated. She, later on, procured a divorce without a contest. Cruelty on the part of Ambler was alleged. Rose returned to the parental roof.

In the early fall of 1883, just before the tragedy, she was in her 23d year, more beautiful than ever, and engaged to be married in a few months to William Lewis. In fact she was buying her trousseau and Lewis was building the house they were to live in. Her father was away in the schooner and she was spending most of her evenings at Lewis' father's house, which was half a mile down the street, near the heart of the village. Her home was in the outskirts of the village and she always insisted upon walking home alone at night. The weather was fine; the street, though shaded and solitary, was in one of the peacefulest villages in the world. It ran through the double line of scattered houses, each far back in a yard dotted with old trees; it crossed the Ravenstream bridge; it skirted several great houses, surrounded by parks with low stone walls; it passed several fields and then the cottage of Capt. Nathan Clark.

ROSE CLARK AMBLER.

At 11:30 o'clock on the night of Sept. 2, 1883, Preston H. Hodges, living in one of the great houses beyond the Ravenstream bridge, was stirring about unable to sleep. He heard the rain of a violent thunder shower. He was startled by a dazzling flash of lightning followed by the clap and roll of thunder. Then, through the stillness that followed, there came a scream. It was a wild, long, intense scream of a woman in terrible agony.

At 7 o'clock of the morning of Sept. 3 a farm hand and a cowboy, going through a meadow between Mr. Hodges's grounds and the Ravenstream, saw a woman lying in the long grass in the shadow of the low stone wall that separated the meadow from the street. They recognized the woman at once as pretty Rose Ambler. She was lying on her back, with her hands resting upon her hips and her wide-open eyes staring up at the sky. Her hat was on her head, but looked as though it had been put there hastily and not by herself. Her face was bruised with repeated blows of a fist. It was scratched and torn, and through stabs in her neck her blood had flowed away.

The police set to work to reconstruct the tragedy that had taken place. The scream fixed the time of the murder at 11:30 o'clock. Inquiry at the Lewis's developed the fact that Will Lewis and Rose had left the house at 9 o'clock the evening before, that Will had returned alone at 10 o'clock or a little before, and had gone up to bed. Will Lewis said that he walked with Rose to within a hundred feet or so of the Ravenstream bridge, and that he had there bade her good night, as she insisted on going the rest of the way alone. He said, and he had many persons to confirm his assertion, that Rose always insisted on going home alone, and seldom allowed him to accompany her. Where, then, was Rose Ambler between 9:45 o'clock and 11:35 o'clock that night? Why was her parasol wet through, and why were her skirts dry and her shoes dusty?

WILL LEWIS.

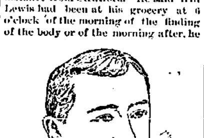

The theory that she had been assaulted just after crossing the bridge was abandoned. It seemed clear that Rose had been with some one she knew between 9:45 o'clock and 11:35 o'clock, and that they had been under shelter. When the doctors made their examination they found that no violence had been attempted. The murderer, therefore, had some other motive than this.

After several absurd arrests the authorities came into possession of some curious facts about Rose's life which gave rise to several interesting theories. In the first place it came out that Rose was not the abused wife people had thought her. Instead of that, she had become indifferent to her husband after several months of their married life and had fallen in love with his cousin, Will Lewis, her fiance at the time of the murder. Will had lived with Norman and his wife. Norman sent Will away and accusing his wife of loving him, she admitted it frankly. These things had caused the quarrels, the separation, and the divorce.

In the second place it developed that Will Lewis and Rose had been unduly intimate, and that they had been quarreling a good deal during the latter part of the summer. In the third place it came out that before Rose married Ambler she had been engaged to a man who had gone away to sea, and that he had come back after a much longer absence than he had contemplated and had found Rose married, after which he had gone away, quarreling with her before leaving.

Norman Ambler, who was said to have sworn that Will Lewis should never profit by the deviltry he had done, was compelled to give an account of himself. He proved so clearly that no one can doubt it that he was forty miles from Stratford on the night of the murder and for several days both before and after it. The next story to be investigated was that a big man, unknown to the people of the village, had been standing on the Ravenstream bridge at 9 o'clock on the night in question. Loud laughter had been heard at 10 o'clock from the little pavilion in Paradi e park, which lay between Ravenstream bridge and Rose's house. Did the big unknown man meet Rose, and did she, knowing him, go with him to the pavilion to stay there until the shower, during which she met her death, was over?

Then a loafer in Stratford, who had been muttering when drunk that he knew more than he would ever tell, was arrested and told all he knew. He said that on the night of the murder, toward 10:30 o'clock, he had seen Will Lewis's team driving along one of the loneliest roads of Stratford. There were a man and woman in the buggy, but who they were he could not tell. Will Lewis had sworn that his team was not out of the stable that night. Close upon the heels of this loafer came a green grocer of a little town some distance from Stratford. He said Will Lewis had been at his grocery at 6 o'clock of the morning of the finding of the body or of the morning after, he could not remember which, and had said to him: "The girl that was to have been my wife was murdered last night." He tried in vain to fix the day, but he was positive Lewis said "last night." When it is remembered that the body was not discovered until 7 o'clock on the morning after the murder, the importance of this testimony will be realized.

All these things, added to the fact that Lewis had been the last person, so far as was known, to see Rose alive, made the proof against him so strong that a preacher denounced him from the pulpit as the murderer. But Lewis maintained his innocence and presented an alibi so strong and such an excellent character that when the coroner's jury brought in its verdict many months after the murder it found that she had come to her death at the hands of some one unknown, and merely suggested that there were suspicions circumstances pointing to Will Lewis.

With the verdict of the coroner's jury the authorities rested. No more arrests were made. All attempts to solve the mystery soon ceased. And in this story are included most of the important facts known as to the cause of the death of Rose Clark Ambler. It is known that she was beaten into unconsciousness and then stabbed to death. But where this was done and what powerful cause impelled the doing are things that in all probability will never be known.

Buried Beneath a Building

At 1 o'clock the other morning the two-story frame cooler of the Bruggeman Brewery, St. Paul, collapsed and three men who were sleeping in the building were buried beneath the ruins. They were Frank Bruggeman, Al Lobbs, and Fritz, Schaefer. Bruggeman and Lobbs were finally taken from the ruins badly injured but Schaefer was dead when he recovered.

A FASTING PIG.

Found Buried in the Snow by a North Dakota Blizzard.

The terrific storm of March 2, 1892, will long be remembered all over the Northwest. A black pig, weighing about 200 pounds, belonging to A. Weberg, undertook, with the help of the storm, to outdo the celebrated Dr. Tanner in the way of living without food, and there is little doubt but that he would have succeeded had he not been disturbed.

When the storm was over Mr. Weberg looked about his place and found everything all right except the pig in question, which was missing. A thorough search was instituted, but the pig's whereabouts was not disclosed. Mr. Weberg finally gave it up and thought of course that the pig had perished in the storm and was buried in the snow. When the snow was nearly gone, Mr. Weberg turned his horses out in the pasture. They felt good, and began to play and run around.

One of them jumped into a snowdrift near an old straw pile, and he sank down through the soft snow into a cavity, when, lo and behold! up jumped the long-lost pig, with a squeal and aungh! as if to say, "Don't bother me!" and walked off in a dignified manner. He was as fat and healthy as he was the day before the storm, but a little stiff in one hind leg where the horse had stepped on him. Sixteen days imprisonment without food, air or water. This may be a valuable discovery. The hog may live through the winter like the bear, in a comatose state, subsisting on nutriment derived from his paw, if buried sufficiently to be protected from the air and light.

Dragooning Won't Do!

Not with the liver. Violent cholagogues, like calomel and blue pill, administered in "heroic" or excessive doses, as they often are, will not permanently restore the activity of the great hepatic organ, and are productive of much mischief to the system generally. Institute a healthful reform. If inactivity of the liver exists, with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures a regular discharge of the secretive function of the liver, and promotes due action of the bowels without griping or weakening them. The discomfort and tenderness in the right side, nausea, fur upon the tongue, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, sourness of the breath and sick headache, which characterize chronic biliousness, disappear, and digestion always interfered with by biliousness resumes its former activity. The bitters annihilates malarial complaints, rheumatism, kidney trouble, and is a promoter of healthful repose.

MANY Fort Wayne people are spending part of the summer at the Warsaw and Rome City resorts. Both these places offer fine attractions and especially is this the case during the sessions of the assemblies.

THE trustees of the townships and trustees of school boards of cities and towns have made their annual report to the county commissioners. These reports are due on the first day of August. All trustees save those of Scipio, Jackson, Maumee and Perry have reported, and the board has given them until next Thursday in which to comply.

THE rejected report on the Homestead labor troubles prepared by Representative Oates, now that congress has adjourned, has been made public. Mr. Oates thinks both sides were blamable, and condemns the McKinley law for its failure to benefit American workmen, saying the promises made to the workmen have been disappointing.

THE democrats of Lagrange county nominated the following ticket last Saturday: Dr. John Dancer, representative; John Price, clerk; Nelson E. Miller, treasurer; W. H. Weaver, sheriff; H. M. Kromer, recorder; Victor Camp, surveyor; Dr. Shrock, coroner; R. M. Wigton, county assessor; Valentine Shrock and Frank Atwood, commissioners.

THE investigation of drunkenness in congress has established two points: First, that there has been an improvement in sobriety in the house of representatives. There are 332 members, from all parts of the country and various classes in life. The testimony before the committee shows there is comparatively little drunkenness among these members. The other point is, the eager desire to disprove Mr. Watson's charge, showing a recognition of a public opinion that would not condone this offense. This could not have been said of a generation or two ago, when this vice was much more general among men of position and much more easily pardoned than now.

THE latest thing we have seen advocated in horse racing circles is a rubber track. One writer has this to say about it in the Breeder and Turfman: "The rubber track, we believe, should be constructed in the form of a perfect circle, just one-half mile in length immediately in front of the grand stand, thus affording the best possible view, while on this springy, yet non-slippery, substance the horse is able to use his powers for all they are worth, making faster time by five or eight seconds than any form of dirt track. Who would not rather witness a race over a half mile track, where the horses must go round twice for a heat, so you can see just what they are doing, providing as fast or faster time is made, than over a mile track? Then again, what a boon for poor, overworked, sore footed horses, the result of rapid action over flinty tracks in long, drawn out, three-in-five, live-or-die races, a strain that nature never intended the feet of a horse to endure, and even though the feet are not predisposed to disease by inheritance, as many of them already are, they certainly will in future generations if we continue to subject them to this unbearable strain.

BEGINNING tonight the falling stars, so called, will give their regular August entertainment. They are not falling stars, however, for the nearest of the stars is 20,000,000,000,000 miles away. They are supposed to be fragments of course, but why they should fall every year at this time no one knew for years and years. They also play an engagement in November, but it doesn't, except once in thirty-three years, equal the August display. Meteors are supposed to be the remains of comets. At any rate, a regular stream of these minute bodies is, in every case where found, strung out in or very close to the orbit of a known comet. The August meteors' path coincides with that of the second comet of 1862. These meteors are found all along the trail of this comet, and form a regular continuous stream around the sun. This stream is elliptical, like the orbit of the comet, and the sun is in one focus of the ellipse. The orbit of the earth intersects some of the meteors about the point which the earth reaches every year around August 9. As the earth dashes along its course it plunges into this meteor stream at that date. Many meteors are then turned from their course by the earth's attraction, and in flying toward us they are ignited by the resistance offered by the earth's atmosphere, and thus becomes visible to us. The long train which they leave after them is composed of glowing ashes into which they are reduced.

Occasionally a meteor strikes the earth, and there is a case on record of a man being killed by one, but the majority of them are burned up before they reach us and only the ashes fall, but these ashes are redhot and leave a luminous train. But for the fact that our atmosphere, which extends upward 100 to 125 miles, furnishes us protection and checks the falling meteors until they are burned to powder, the loss of life and property every August and November would be tremendous, for the meteors average about a pound each in weight.

STATE NEWS.

William Chambers, of Aurora, disappointed in finding work in an Anderson factory, attempted suicide by swallowing laudanum and strychnine.

Eight hundred people attended the double funeral of John H. Fulmer and Oscar M. Colglazier, near Salem. The young men were killed by a Monon train.

Mrs. Thomas Mintaugh, wife of a wealthy farmer near Colfax, disappeared from home one night last week. She has been deranged for several years.

Miss Mary Simms, of New Albany, some years ago answered a matrimonial advertisement and this led to a correspondence with William J. Reeves, a ranchman, of Texas. The correspondence was kept up, and a few weeks ago the ranchman proposed marriage. The parties met on Sunday for the first time, and favorable impressions being mutual, a marriage followed. Rev. H. J. Talbott officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves will live in Texas.

The late Thomas Arthur Stuart, of Lafayette, was the third lawyer connected with the celebrated Pettit wife-poisoning case who has died. Colonel Wilson and Judge Davidson were the others. The death of Stuart is a severe blow to Pettit's hopes, as he was an indefatigable worker and firmly believed in the preacher's innocence. He was in possession of many facts and figures not of record which would have been of great value in the appeal now pending.

The Anderson tin plate works, the first establishment of its kind in this state, has been sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy mechanics' liens. The claims aggregate $7,825, and the plant was assessed for taxation purposes at $6,000. It was a small concern, employing but four men, three boys and eight girls. The men were skilled workmen, imported from Wales, and one of them reports that in Wales he received $2 50 per day, working six days in the week, and that it is his purpose to return home, as the cost of living more than compensates for the difference in wages.

Wm. N. Whitely, the great implement manufacturer of Springfield, Ohio, has closed a contract looking to the removal of his immense plant to Muncie. The chief desideratum is cheap fuel, but Mr. Whitely is given a fifty acre tract of land, and the Whitely Land company, organized with $250,000 capital stock, has purchased 1,200 acres of land adjoining the reaper site, on which the new town of Whitely will be located. The new factory will have a floor space of 152,000 square feet, and when in full operation is expected to give employment to 2,000 workmen in the manufacture of reapers, mowers and other kinds of farm implements. Muncie is delighted with the acquisition.

Hon. J. B. Harris, mayor of Champaign, Ill., who spent Sunday in this city with A. Lorenzo, resumed his journey to Philadelphia yesterday. Mr. Harris is a republican and lives in Joe Cannon's district, the Fifteenth. He says that President Harrison is very unpopular in his district, and will run 1,500 votes behind his ticket. Another republican congressional convention will be held at Danville, Ill., in a short time, and a straightout republican will be nominated to oppose Cannon, who, although he manipulates the machinery, is as unpopular as Harrison.

The feeble minded institute band went to Huntington this afternoon, where they will furnish the music at a festival given by the Y. P. S. C. E. tonight. They will give a free concert on the streets of Huntington this afternoon. Superintendent Blake accompanied the band and will entertain the denizens of that city with singing. The reputation of the feeble minded band is growing and is equal to that of many bands in cities surrounding us.

A LOOK AT CORBETT

AS HE APPEARS IN HIS TRAINING QUARTERS.

How He Seeks to Steal a March on the World's Champion—His Friends Confident of Victory—Training Implements.

WHILE THE HERCULES of the prize ring is endeavoring to remove from human gaze the layers of fat that cushion his bones at Shinnecock Bay, the Adonis of the squared circle is also preparing himself for the great battle of fists which will occur on Sept. 7. The prime object of Sullivan and his trainer is to wear off pounds of surplus flesh, while Corbett is intent only in keeping himself in a condition of health and strength. The methods of the two fighters are almost identical, but the objects sought are different. There is also a marked similarity in the training quarters of the men. The champion plods upon the sandy roadways of Good Ground, and dozes beneath the trees that shade the sleepy old inn which he makes his home. Before him spread the placid waters of Shinnecock bay. In the rear are the calm depths of Great Peconic bay, and on the left the Shinnecock canal ripples between high banks of yellow sand. The salt breezes from the ocean continually rustle the leaves of the mulberry trees and keep down the temperature of the massive pugilist.

TOSSING THE TEN-POUND BALL.

Corbett's surroundings are somewhat more aristocratic. He occupies an ornamental cottage on the seashore at Asbury Park. In the rear of the cottage is Deal lake, on which the young giant does his rowing, and also within a stone's throw to the right is the sounding sea. As the pugilist swings idly in his hammock on the pleasant veranda, the muffled roar of the surf falls upon his drowsy ears like the applause of thousands, and he half fancies that he is stepping into the ring to meet the strong boy. This illusion is usually dissipated by the voice of his trainer requesting him to join in a little spin down the road for the purpose of getting up an appetite. Then he awakes to a realization of the fact that time has not been called for the chief event of his pugilistic career, and patiently resumes the routine of his preparatory work.

The branch of his training which gives him the most vigorous exercise is, however, the handball court, which adjoins the barn on the ocean side. It is very well constructed, and not only affords splendid exercise, but also unlimited sport. Corbett naturally does not indulge every day in all the features noted, but varies them. He does all his indoor work in the morning and walks during the afternoon, which is directly opposite to the system employed by Sullivan, who walks in the morning and takes his gymnastic exercise in the afternoon. The Californian says that if he walked in the morning he would feel too tired to do much work in the afternoon. Corbett has now been training five weeks, the work being directed toward strengthening the arms, keeping the wind in good condition and maintaining a good state of health. He will not begin his hard work until the first of August, when he will put in four weeks of good, solid effort.

At present Corbett weighs 185 pounds stripped, and he expects to enter the ring at between 185 and 190 pounds, while Sullivan hopes to weigh in the neighborhood of 205 pounds.

A VARIETY OF PULLEY MOVEMENTS.

Corbett's first work is with the pulleys, and for half an hour every morning he makes them squeak.

After thirty minutes' siege with the pulleys Corbett ceases operations and takes up the ten-pound tossing ball. The next thing on the program is the wrist machine.

The last feature of the morning is handball, and this gives the young man a chance to show how quickly he can move his 185 pounds. He springs about the court with wonderful activity, and easily defeats two opponents every day.

When he has been thoroughly rubbed Corbett takes a slight rest, and after lunch starts out with Trainer Daly for his regular afternoon stroll. The walk is usually to Long Branch and back. The men start out easily, and gradually quicken their gait until within a mile or two from home, when they break into a brisk run and end up with a spurt. At night Corbett goes to Asbury Park and takes a stroll on the boardwalk or visits friends. He seldom goes to bed until 10 or 10:30 o'clock, arguing that if he got into the habit of retiring earlier, and the fight on Sept. 7 did not begin until late, he might have a tendency to drowsiness at a time when he desired to be wide awake. Corbett does not believe in surf bathing, as he thinks its effect is weakening. He does all his bathing in a tub.

Like many other athletes in training, there is only one thing that will cloud Corbett's sunny temper, and that is, delay in serving a meal for which he is waiting with a wolfish appetite. On such occasions Corbett walks rapidly around the veranda, with his forehead wrinkled, and urges Delaney to "jolly that dinner along."

The question naturally confronts those who have seen Sullivan and Corbett at work. What will the result be? And this brings to light the interesting and very pronounced difference of opinion between Sullivan and his backers, and Corbett and his supporters. That both are confident of victory there is no question. Sullivan's backers seem to think that they will take the purse with ridiculous ease. They base their belief on the fact that Sullivan is now in good health and strength, and seems certain to train into good condition. They hold that when the champion is in form no man can withstand his rushes. Sullivan has said that he will whip Corbett in twenty minutes, and that it is unnecessary for him to train very hard for the meeting.

Billy Delaney says that anybody who tried to whip Corbett in a hurry would run against a surprise party. "Corbett is three inches taller than Sullivan, and has a longer reach. He is strong as a bull and quick as a cat. So far as Corbett's habits are concerned, they could not be better. I saw Corbett and Sullivan spar in San Francisco, and, while there was no heavy slugging, Corbett showed his ability to keep his man on the jump."

When Corbett is not exercising he is generally engaged in playing with Ned,

JAMES DALEY.

Maher vs. Smith.

Concerning the challenge issued by Jim Smith to Peter Maher, the London Sporting Life has this to say: "Our Dublin correspondent wired us last evening to the effect that after reading Smith's challenge to Peter Maher he waited on Tony Sage. That gentleman informed me that, although he could ill afford the time just now for match making, he would have been pleased to have accepted Jim's challenge on behalf of Maher had not other arrangements been made for the Irish champion. At present the latter is fulfilling a very lucrative engagement with Ginnett's traveling circus, at the expiration of which he is due in America. In order, however, to give Smith every chance, Mr. Sage will guarantee that before the Irishman again leaves his native shore the latter will bet the Englishman £100 and the receipts of the gate that he will beat him in a four-round contests with 4-ounce gloves, the men to box in Belfast in four weeks from the date of signing articles."

NOTES FOR NATURALISTS.

India rubber trees grow wild all over Lee county, Florida. At Fort Myers they are the chief shade and ornamental trees.

Oscar Wilde is developing a new flower, a green-veined tulip, which he pronounces "a triumph of classic horticulture."

Horticulturists tell us that the orange was originally a pear-shaped fruit about the size of the common wild cherry. Its evolution is due to 1,200 years of cultivation.

In Ashantee and around the woods near Kabba grows a tree resembling in appearance the English oak, which furnishes excellent butter. This vegetable butter keeps in perfect condition all the year round in spite of the heat, and in its natural condition.

A little insect that fastens itself on the wire fences in the fall around Carson City, Nev., and exudes a sticky, glutinous substance, is often responsible for broken fences. The insect remains glued to the wire all winter, and in the spring the wire parts at that point.

The exceptional honor of possessing a head of green hair falls to Daniel McCorry, bronze colorer, at a wall paper factory, Philadelphia. He was once blessed with blonde hair, but in following his trade he was constantly amid acids and bronzes, and finally he observed his hair changing to a rich emerald green.

Maj. Allatt of the British army thinks that ducks would be preferable to pigeons for carrying naval dispatches over the sea, because they would drop down and sit on the water when tired, and resume their flight after resting. Moreover ducks can fly by night, while pigeons can not. Maj. Allatt also suggests that sea gulls might be trained for message bearing.

A land-locked salmon, weighing 6½ pounds, taken from Green lake, Me., recently was found to have attached to the back fin one of the aluminum tags with which fifty of the salmon were marked during the spawning season of 1890. Although exposed to the water for so long, the tag and silver wire with which it was fastened to the fin were but slightly tarnished, and the number was plainly discernible. A reference to the list of tagged salmon showed that the salmon had grown an inch in length and about a pound in weight since being tagged.

Jane Austen's works are now old enough to be new. An edition de luxe of her novels reminds us that Macaulay spoke of her as "a woman of whom England is justly proud," while Walter Scott said, "What a pity such a gifted creature died so early!"

Miss Emma Eames, the American songstress, tells a London interviewer that hard as she works she never allows herself to get tired. "The moment I find that my intelligence is clouded," she says, "I sit down and think of other things or read books and go to bed early. Nothing can be done without intense power of concentration."

John A. Brashear of Allegheny City, Pa., the astronomer and manufacturer of telescopes, was once a laborer in one of the Pittsburg iron mills. His talent came to the attention of Henry Phipps, the millionaire, who persuaded him to give up puddling and devote himself to astronomy. He was for years a lecturer in this science in the Western Pennsylvania university.

Athletes of the Present Day.

J. E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, president of the Pastime Athletic Club, and athletic editor of the Sporting Times, writes:

"For years I have been actively connected with athletic sports. I always found it to my advantage to use ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS while in training, as they quickly remove soreness and stiffness; and when attacked with any kind of pains, the result of slight colds, I always used ALLCOCK'S with beneficial results. I have noticed that most athletes of the present day use nothing else but ALLCOCK'S PLASTER."

A busy doctor gives away at least a quarter of his services.

Telling the Truth.

It's common saying that newspapers lie, but when an editor writes a thing and puts his name to it you may be sure he is telling the truth. Read this: "We have never before said one word in favor of any patent medicine advertisement in our columns, but having given Simmons Liver Regulator it fair trial, we do not hesitate to say that for dyspepsia and general debility it cannot be excelled."—Fred M. Childs, editor "News," Kenton, Ohio.

Fruit House Prices for 1892.

The season of 1892 opens auspicious for the purchaser. There are few lines of goods but what there has been a decline in, and especially in sugars, but also in Coffees, Raisins and California Dried and Canned Fruits. When Sugars touched 5c for Granulated every one felt as this would be bottom, for that was a plump reduction of 2c per pound, but now Granulated is 4½, another half-cent decline. At no time in World's History has Sugars been so low as now. We even sell a good

If Barytes and other adulterants of White Lead are just as good as

Strictly

Pure White Lead

why is it that all the bogus and adulterated white-leads are always branded "Pure," or "Strictly Pure White Lead?"

No one ever puts a misleading brand on an article of merchandise, unless he wants to "work off" an inferior for a better.

This Barytes or Baryta, is a heavy white powder, worthless as paint; costing only about one cent per pound and is used to adulterate and cheapen the mixture. No one ever adulterates white lead with an article costing more than Lead.

If you purchase any of the following brands you are sure of having strictly pure white lead—

ANCHOR (Cincinnati)
ARMSTRONG & McKELVY (Pittsburgh)
BEYMER-BAUMAN (Pittsburgh)
COLLIER (St. Louis)
CORNELL (Buffalo)
DAVIS-CHAMBERS (Pittsburgh)
ECKSTEIN (Cincinnati)
FAHNESTOCK (Pittsburgh)
MORLEY (Cleveland)
RED SEAL (St. Louis)
SHIPMAN (Chicago)
SOUTHERN (St. Louis and Chicago)

These brands of strictly pure White Lead and the National Lead Co.'s Tinting Colors are for sale by the best dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THOUSANDS visit Lakeside every pleasant Sunday to see the wonderful development of that pretty suburb. So rapidly are the new and handsome cottages going up that even a single week makes a great difference in the appearance of things. Prices of lots are commencing to stiffen and a delay of a month or two is liable to cost you $50 or $100. Better select your lot at once. The Land company will furnish you with money to build and let you pay it back in monthly installments.

MONEY TO LOAN—The Tri-State Building and Loan Association will loan you money to pay a mortgage or build you a home at a less rate than any one else. Do not pay rent or a high rate of interest when you can get the money of the Tri-State Building and Loan Association at a low rate and on such easy terms. One thousand dollars at $12, $14 or $17 per month, to suit borrower. Call at the office of the Association, rooms 13 and 14 Pixley and Long block, and secure full particulars. 27-tf

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Accidents, Incidents, and Personal Mention of the People About the Railway Centers.

John Nolan, the veteran Pittsburg machinist, is quite ill.

Albert Ewald, a Pittsburg boilermaker, is sick and off duty.

Gus Dornte, of the Pittsburg planing mills, has recovered from a week's illness.

The Illinois Central has put on a fast vestibule train between Chicago and Sioux City.

F. W. Gardner, painter, is camping out on the banks of the St. Joe river for a few days.

G. P. Lehr and B. Meyers, roundhouse employes, have reported for duty after a sickness.

Foreman T. J. Robabaugh, of the Pittsburg paint shops, is attending the races at Grand Rapids today.

William Abrams has resigned his position in the Pittsburg car shop and will remove to Crestline, Ohio.

Louis Rehling is at his forge in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop again after a very pleasant visit in the country.

James Burnes, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, fell yesterday and injured his side so badly that he had to quit work.

J. D. White, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, has been camping out up the St. Joe river for the past two weeks.

Fireman Charles Coulson, of the Nickel Plate passenger service, reported for duty yesterday after a few days recreation.

Thomas Golden, clerk in Master Car Builder Graham's office, is off duty today, attending the funeral of the late Mr. Alter.

No. 273, a class X engine, built in the Fort Wayne shops, went east this morning and will be turned over to the eastern division.

E. Journard, who resigned his position in the Anthony Wayne works a few weeks ago, has returned to that establishment.

Andy Hulier resumed his duties in the Pittsburg planing mills this morning. For a week he was nursing a mashed finger.

The Pennsylvania shops at Columbus will soon turn out three more class R engines. This will make fifteen heavy freight engines built there this year.

Charles Rodenbeck and H. J. Daseler, who were among the suspended men from the Pittsburg boiler shops, have gone to Huntington to look for work.

Mrs. Gus Brandenburg, wife of the Wabash car repairer, is very ill. Mr. Brandenburg, on account of his wife's illness, has been unable to work for over a week.

Fireman Harry Meyers, who was laying off to entertain a cousin from Galion, Ohio, resumed his run on the Nickel Plate this morning. The cousin has returned home.

William Roybans, clerk for Peter J. Scheid in the Pittsburg roundhouse, is confined to his bed with sickness. Theodore Doebler is looking after affairs in the office.

John Davidson, a Nickel Plate engineer, who is working on a gravel train on the Chicago division, spent Sunday and a part of Monday with his family at Bellvue, Ohio.

The passenger rate war goes merrily on. It is now believed that when the time comes the railroads will not be able to get one fare rate for the round trip to the world's fair.

Bud Fisher is the guest of relatives and friends in this city. He is the son of Abel Fisher, formerly of this city, but now master car builder of the Wellsville, Ohio, railway shops.

The Erie has taken up the gauntlet thrown down by the Nickle Plate, and has made an eight dollar rate to Niagara, Chautauqua and other points, and will in addition give stop-over privileges.

John F. Cline, who for several years has been secretary and treasurer of the Toledo and Ohio Central road, has resigned to engage in business. Judge Stevenson Burke, president of the road, has not yet selected his successor.

The Fort Wayne shops are not the only railway shops now doing a light business. The Clover Leaf shops at Frankfort are doing very little outside of repairing tools and machinery and getting ready for business when it does open up.

Jacob Hauck, a carpenter in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson, made a run from Findlay, Ohio, to this city, a distance of 112 miles, on his bicycle last week, in eight hours. This, we understand, beats any long distance runs yet made by Fort Wayne wheelmen.

Ed. Challenger, clerk in the Pittsburg boiler shops, and his family will go to Warsaw today for a week's outing. J. C. Hews and Dan Hurley, foreman and assistant foreman respectively, will go to that pleasant resort Saturday afternoon and be Ed's guests over Sunday.

The last class X engine, No. 274, was turned out of the Pittsburg shops yesterday. The men are now doing repair work only, but there is plenty of it to keep them at work all the time.

J. W. Harber, was a caller at the Nickel Plate round house yesterday and gave notice that he would resume his old run later in the week. Mr. Harber, who is a fireman, has been sick for eight months.

The Pennsylvania has reduced passenger rates to the basis of one cent a mile from eastern points to Chicago and St. Louis and the Big Four has made a reduction in rates to Lake Chautauqua, Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland and other points.

Isaac B. Fisher, who for twenty-one years ran the fast train on the Erie road, died in an insane asylum last week. He was always an active member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, being one of Grand Chief Arthur's right-hand men

Sam Murphy, the painter boss in the east shops, has rented a cozy brick cottage on New Haven avenue, near the shops, and will soon be "at home" to his friends there. Mr. Murphy and family are estimable people and are sure to receive a welcome from the residents of the east end.

Nickel Plate sick list: Engineers C. E. Merriett, George Stevens, C. A. Braithwait, Henry Boneman, George Cooper, John Stackhouse, Ed. Crosby, George Dougherty, and George Maughan; Firemen J. Rennie, Joseph Ebert, George Rohlman, Frank O'Brien, Frank Smith, I. P. Hill and J. H. Rannard.

The Toledo Railway Clerks' association, organized but a few months ago, has now 240 members. Through the efforts of the association the hours of labor for the clerks have been reduced without any ill feeling on the part of the heads of the respective departments where the clerks are employed.

Pittsburg roundhouse report: Engineer B. F. Campbell, off on vacation; Firemen H. C. Cramer and N. Hayes, sick. The following, recently on the off-duty list, have reported: Engineers W. G. Lyons, F. Penoyer, J. C. Piersen, P. H. Ryan, E. Jamey and J. H. Stewart; Firemen T. Teagarten and A. H. Hively.

This hot weather has nearly paralyzed business in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop. The sick list this morning contains the following names: Oscar Judy, A. Rauner, Charles Rice, James Quinn, Henry Dreier, James O'Hern, Anthony Haverly, Al Throckmorton, Joseph Carry and George Kelley.

Section men every where are demanding more pay for their services. There is no class of workmen so poorly paid as the section men, their daily earnings being on an average $1.10. The latest strike for higher wages is on the Chicago and Indiana coal road, where the men demand $1.25 per day. If sober, industrious laborers they should have what they demand.

The freight department of the Pennsylvania road has issued its new tariff from Toledo, Cincinnati, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis and other western points to Boston, which will go into effect August 15. The new rate is practically a reduction on grain of 3 cents per 100 pounds by all lines. There is also some reduction in commodity rates, which will favorably affect western shippers. Rates on live stock and export freights remain as heretofore.

There is a great deal of complaint of dishonest telegraph operators at railway stations everywhere; a man jumps from a train, leaves a message, pays for it hastily, the operator pockets the money and the message goes into the waste basket. This dishonorable method of doing business is more practiced on strangers than one would suppose, it well could be without detection and punishment. The practice is indulged in when parties telegraph ahead for berths in sleeping coaches, and the sleeping car companies, it is stated, are quietly looking into the matter.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four and the Chesapeake and Ohio, has become a warm advocate, it is stated, of placing ticket collectors on all passenger trains. He says, laying aside all charges of dishonesty on the part of conductors, it is profitable to have both conductors and ticket collectors for all trains. This plan enables the conductor to keep his train on time, is a preventative against accidents and, taken as a whole, is a benefit to the company. He thinks the sooner the traveling public disabuses itself of the idea that when ticket collectors are put on trains it is indicative that the conductors are dishonest the pleasanter would be the conditions of all concerned.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at Dreier Bros. Drug Store, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Good Looks.

Good Looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look, if your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic Look, and if your Kidneys be affected you have a Pinched Look. ROSE CLARK AMBLER.

VICTIM IN THE GREAT STRATFORD MYSTERY.

HER SENSATIONAL MURDER REVIEWED AGAIN.

The Many Circumstances That Have Contributed to Make the Case One of the Most Celebrated in Criminal Annals—Her Love Affairs.

THE MOST INTERESTING of Connecticut's murder mysteries is that of Rose Clark Ambler, which occurred nearly ten years ago at Stratford. Rose was the daughter of a skipper and the belle of the city. At 19 she married Norman Ambler, who, with his cousin, William Lewis, kept a general store on the main street. Society was shocked a year after their marriage, when they separated. She, later on, procured a divorce without a contest. Cruelty on the part of Ambler was alleged. Rose returned to the parental roof.

In the early fall of 1883, just before the tragedy, she was in her 23d year, more beautiful than ever, and engaged to be married in a few months to William Lewis. In fact she was buying her trousseau and Lewis was building the house they were to live in. Her father was away in the schooner and she was spending most of her evenings at Lewis' father's house, which was half a mile down the street, near the heart of the village. Her home was in the outskirts of the village and she always insisted upon walking home alone at night. The weather was fine; the street, though shaded and solitary, was in one of the peacefulest villages in the world. It ran through the double line of scattered houses, each far back in a yard dotted with old trees; it crossed the Ravenstream bridge; it skirted several great houses, surrounded by parks with low stone walls; it passed several fields and then the cottage of Capt. Nathan Clark.

At 11:30 o'clock on the night of Sept. 2, 1883, Preston H. Hodges, living in one of the great houses beyond the Ravenstream bridge, was stirring about unable to sleep. He heard the rain of a violent thunder shower. He was startled by a dazzling flash of lightning followed by the clap and roll of thunder. Then, through the stillness that followed, there came a scream. It was a wild, long, intense scream of a woman in terrible agony.

At 7 o'clock of the morning of Sept. 3 a farm hand and a cowboy, going through a meadow between Mr. Hodge's grounds and the Ravenstream, saw a woman lying in the long grass in the shadow of the low stone wall that separated the meadow from the street. They recognized the woman at once as pretty Rose Ambler. She was lying on her back, with her hands resting upon her hips and her wide-open eyes staring up at the sky. Her hat was on her head, but looked as though it had been put there hastily and not by herself. Her face was bruised with repeated blows of a fist. It was scratched and torn, and through stabs in her neck her blood had flowed away.

The police set to work to reconstruct the tragedy that had taken place. The scream fixed the time of the murder at 11:30 o'clock. Inquiry at the Lewis's developed the fact that Will Lewis and Rose had left the house at 9 o'clock the evening before, that Will had returned alone at 10 o'clock or a little before, and had gone up to bed. Will Lewis said that he walked with Rose to within a hundred feet or so of the Ravenstream bridge, and that he had there bade her good night, as she insisted on going the rest of the way alone. He said, and he had many persons to confirm his assertion, that Rose always insisted on going home alone, and seldom allowed him to accompany her. Where, then, was Rose Ambler between 9:45 o'clock and 11:35 o'clock that night? Why was her parasol wet through, and why were her skirts dry and her shoes dusty?

The theory that she had been assaulted just after crossing the bridge was abandoned. It seemed clear that Rose had been with some one she knew between 9:45 o'clock and 11:35 o'clock, and that they had been under shelter. When the doctors made their examination they found that no violence had been attempted. The murderer, therefore, had some other motive than this.

After several absurd arrests the authorities came into possession of some curious facts about Rose's life which gave rise to several interesting theories. In the first place it came out that Rose was not the abused wife people had thought her. Instead of that, she had become indifferent to her husband after several months of their married life and had fallen in love with his cousin, Will Lewis, her fiance at the time of the murder. Will had lived with Norman and his wife. Norman sent Will away and accusing his wife of loving him, she admitted it frankly. These things had caused the quarrels, the separation, and the divorce.

In the second place it developed that Will Lewis and Rose had been unduly intimate, and that they had been quarreling a good deal during the latter part of the summer. In the third place it came out that before Rose married Ambler she had been engaged to a man who had gone away to sea, and that he had come back after a much longer absence than he had contemplated and had found Rose married, after which he had gone away, quarreling with her before leaving.

Norman Ambler, who was said to have sworn that Will Lewis should never profit by the deviltry he had done, was compelled to give an account of himself. He proved so clearly that no one can doubt it that he was forty miles from Stratford on the night of the murder and for several days both before and after it. The next story to be investigated was that a big man, unknown to the people of the village, had been standing on the Ravenstream bridge at 9 o'clock on the night in question. Loud laughter had been heard at 10 o'clock from the little pavilion in Parndi e park, which lay between Ravenstream bridge and Rose's house. Did the big unknown man meet Rose, and did she, knowing him, go with him to the pavilion to stay there until the shower, during which she met her death, was over?

Then a loafer in Stratford, who had been muttering when drunk that he knew more than he would ever tell, was arrested and told all he knew. He said that on the night of the murder, toward 10:30 o'clock, he had seen Will Lewis's team driving along one of the loneliest roads of Stratford. There were a man and woman in the buggy, but who they were he could not tell. Will Lewis had sworn that his team was not out of the stable that night. Close upon the heels of this loafer came a green grocer of a little town some distance from Stratford. He said Will Lewis had been at his grocery at 6 o'clock of the morning of the finding of the body or of the morning after, he could not remember which, and had said to him: "The girl that was to have been my wife was murdered last night." He tried in vain to fix the day, but he was positive Lewis said "last night." When it is remembered that the body was not discovered until 7 o'clock on the morning after the murder, the importance of this testimony will be realized.

All these things, added to the fact that Lewis had been the last person, so far as was known, to see Rose alive, made the proof against him so strong that a preacher denounced him from the pulpit as the murderer. But Lewis maintained his innocence and presented an alibi so strong and of such an excellent character that when the coroner's jury brought in its verdict many months after the murder it found that she had come to her death at the hands of some one unknown, and merely suggested that there were suspicious circumstances pointing to Will Lewis.

With the verdict of the coroner's jury the authorities rested. No more arrests were made. All attempts to solve the mystery soon ceased. And in this story are included most of the important facts known as to the cause of the death of Rose Clark Ambler. It is known that she was beaten into unconsciousness and then stabbed to death. But where this was done and what powerful cause impelled the doing are things that in all probability will never be known.

Buried Beneath a Building

At 1 o'clock the other morning the two-story frame cooler of the Bruggeman Brewery, St. Paul, collapsed and three men who were sleeping in the building were buried beneath the ruins. They were Frank Bruggeman, Al Lobbs, and Fritz, Schaefer. Bruggeman and Lobbs were finally taken from the ruins badly injured but Schaefer was dead when he recovered.

A FASTING PIG.

Found Buried in the Snow by a North Dakota Blizzard.

The terrific storm of March 2, 1892, will long be remembered all over the Northwest. A black pig, weighing about 200 pounds, belonging to A. Weberg, undertook, with the help of the storm, to outdo the celebrated Dr. Tanner in the way of living without food, and there is little doubt but that he would have succeeded had he not been disturbed.

When the storm was over Mr. Weberg looked about his place and found everything all right except the pig in question, which was missing. A thorough search was instituted, but the pig's whereabouts was not disclosed. Mr. Weberg finally gave it up and thought of course that the pig had perished in the storm and was buried in the snow. When the snow was nearly gone, Mr. Weberg turned his horses out in the pasture. They felt good, and began to play and run around.

One of them jumped into a snow-drift near an old straw pile, and he sank down through the soft snow into a cavity, when, lo and behold! up jumped the long-lost pig, with a squeal and a laugh! as if to say, "Don't bother me!" and walked off in a dignified manner. He was as fat and healthy as he was the day before the storm, but a little stiff in one hind leg where the horse had stepped on him. Sixteen days imprisonment without food, air or water. This may be a valuable discovery. The hog may live through the winter like the bear, in a comatose state, subsisting on nutriment derived from his paw, if buried sufficiently to be protected from the air and light.

Dragooning Won't Do!

Not with the liver. Violent cholagogues, like calomel and blue pill, administered in heroic or excessive doses as they often are, will not permanently restore the activity of the great hepatic organ, and are productive of much mischief to the system generally. Institute a healthful reform. If inactivity of the liver exists, with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures a regular discharge of the secretive function of the liver, and promotes due action of the bowels without griping or weakening them. The discomfort and tenderness in the right side, nausea, fur upon the tongue, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, sourness of the breath and sick headache, which characterize chronic biliousness, disappear, and digestion, always interfered with by biliousness, resumes its former activity. The bitters annihilates malarial complaints, rheumatism, kidney trouble, and is a promoter of healthful repose.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY.

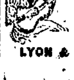

We do not believe in commencing a thrilling story and winding up in an advertisement of patent medicine as some do. We are prepared to say that HILL'S RHEUMATIC PILLS have cured more people of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Biliousness, Sick and Nervous Headache, than any other medicine in the market; and we can prove this by numerous testimonials. MILITARY LIFE.

Lieutenant Hall Talks of His Recruiting Service in This City—The German Military Service.

Lieutenant Charles Hall, an officer of the regular army of the United States, who has been in this city for over a year as a recruiting officer, will leave the latter part of next month for Texas to join his regiment and resume active military service.

"Those of the officers in the regular army who have worked themselves up and are competent and deserving," he said to a SENTINEL reporter, "are given two years' duties as a recruiting officer and stationed at some city where recruits can be obtained. When September ends I will have finished my time in this direction and will go back to my regiment again."

Lieutenant Hall has been with the regular army for fifteen years, and during that time has seen active service in Texas and the west, working himself from the ranks to his present position.

"How many recruiting stations are there in this state?" asked THE SENTINEL reporter.

"Four," was the reply. "One at Indianapolis, one at Terre Haute, one at Evansville, and one in this city. When I leave here another officer will take my place, and the recruiting station will be retained at this point."

"How many men have you enlisted since you have been here?"

I think about 170. I couldn't say accurately without looking over my books, but lately I have been sending off several men every week or two, and I think I have enlisted about the above number of recruits."

"The men who enter the service," Lieutenant Hall continued, in answer to questions from THE SENTINEL reporter, "are required to be over eighteen years of age and able-bodied. It is not a hard life. The men are required to do duty at some one of the military stations along the coast and in the west or on the southern or northern boundaries. They are given $16 a month and are boarded and clothed and on re-enlistment are given increased pay. There is a splendid opportunity for deserving young men to work up in the military service and he is sure of being provided for during his life, for Uncle Sam always cares for the soldiers of the nation. The number of men in the regular army of the United States is always kept at 25,000. The time of service of many is constantly expiring and to keep up the required quota these recruiting stations are necessary."

There is a good deal of difference between military service in this country and other nations, says an article in Harper's Weekly. For instance, take Germany. Every German is liable to service, and in the performance of this duty no substitute is allowed. Exempt from compulsory service are only the members of the reigning or formerly sovereign houses, to whom this exemption has been secured by distinctive treaty, who, however, without exception deem it proper to enter the army.

The liability to service commences with the completion of the seventeenth year, and ends with the forty-fifth year of a man's life. The time is divided between service in the ranks and in the defense of the country (Landsturm.) During his liability to service every German has to serve in the ranks, generally from the twentieth year of his life up to the 31st of March of that calender year in which he attains the age of thirty-nine. This period is subdivided into active service in the ranks, the Landwehr and the Ersatz reserve. All liable to service, but not enrolled for active duty in the ranks, are subject to Landsturm duty. Unqualified for duty are those not capable of bearing arms or undergoing the hardships connected with the military profession; all criminals are excluded from the honor of belonging to the army.

During the time the man belongs to the army, he serves three years in the ranks, four in the reserve, then he belongs for five years to the first levy of the Landwher, up to his thirty-ninth year to the second levy of the Landwehr, and finally up to his forty-fifth year to the Landstrum. The time of active service in the ranks is reduced to one year in the case of young men of education and means, who bear all expenses of clothing, equipment, and support, and pass a certain examination; also in the case of graduates from teachers' seminaries, who in the interest of public education may be allowed to pass into the reserve after a short instruction in the usage of arms, generally confined to a period of only six weeks.

Not all the men, however, enrolled for three years' active army service are kept continually under arms for this whole period. As the strength of any troop must under no circumstances be exceeded, and the number of recruits is generally larger than the number of men whose regular term expires, a select number of such men as excel in conduct and training receive their discharge in the second year at the close of the fall maneuvers and are placed at the disposal of their troop.

Voluntary entry into the army is permitted at the age of seventeen years; these young men have the privilege of choosing their own garrison and troop. Some regiments recuit chiefly from such volunteers, as for instance, the Ziethen hussars.

The number of recruits to be raised every year is determined by the emperor, according to the demands made by the different parts of the army, and this number is apportioned among the several states of the federation in proportion to their population. Recruits are generally enrolled in the same army corps district in which they are raised. An exception from this rule is made in the case of the Prussian guard corps, which is recruited throughout all Prussian provinces and Alsace-Lorraine, and to which are assigned recruits of a superior personal appearance and behaviour. The recruits raised in Alsace-Lorraine are at present assigned to Prussian regiments.

"Here, in the United States," said Lieutenant Hall, "military service is voluntary, except in time of war, and we do not have the hardships that the German soldier has to contend with. Altogether I find military life pleasant. My present duties as a recruiting officer have been particularly pleasant, but they will soon end, and I shall go back to my regiment to remain in the service for life. I have enlisted some good men here in your city and they will make valuable acquisitions to the regular army."
